Council Votes $7,000 for Cemetery Land

Authorizes Move To Give Municipal Court More Space

City Council, holding its final meeting of the year Wednesday night, took steps toward the possible expansion of Washington Cemetery, removed the tax on theater admissions for 1957 and authorized a remodeling project at City Hall to provide additional space for the Municipal Court offices.

The legislators appropriated $7,000 from the city's general fund to be used as the municipality's share in the $10,000 purchase price of a 9.41-acre tract, immediately west of the cemetery. The actual expenditure of the appropriated sum is contingent upon Union Township trustees providing the additional $3,000.

NEED for enlargement of the cemetery, which is operated jointly by the city and Union Township, has been recognized for some time, and the tract immediately to the west, owned by Bud and Mary Brownell, has been offered for the purpose of expanding the burial ground. It lies between the cemetery and a line 100 feet east of Ely St.

Union Township trustees will consider means of raising their share of the purchase price at a meeting Dec. 31. An $8,000 bond issue for the expansion and improvement of the cemetery was defeated by township voters last November.

COUNCIL'S decision to drop the 3 percent theater admissions tax for a second year follows a pattern adopted by many other cities whose movie houses have reported heavily declining revenues. The tax, which had netted the city approximately $100 per month, was not repealed but merely suspended for another 12-month period beginning Jan. 1.

The 3 per cent tax on other amusements is still in effect.

A remodeling program at City Hall was approved after Municipal Judge Max G. Dice pointed out in a letter to Council that the cubbyhole office adjoining the courtroom does not provide enough space for the growing number of records and that there is no privacy for conferences or study of cases.

Discussion of the request indicated that additional room could be made available by cutting through the north wall of the courtroom into the firemen's quarters where there is unused space.

This additional floor space would supplant that assigned to the city manager for an office some time ago.

200 Million Stars Hit Earth Daily

NEW YORK (AP)—Speedy visitors from space hit the earth 2,300 times a second, by new calculations reported today.

These visitors are meteors or shooting stars.

They are so numerous they might literally blast open a space ship long before it could journey to the moon or Mars. They could be one of the greatest barriers to the promised age of space travel.

The new calculations are that 200 million shooting stars visible to the naked eye zing into the earth's atmosphere every day.

They range from the size of dust specks to BB shot or bigger. In total, the 200 million daily visitors weigh at least 16 tons. They travel at speeds from 30,000 to 180,000 miles per hour, and most perish in incandescent brightness from friction of our planet's air.

The new estimate was prepared for presentation to the American Astronomical Society and American Assn. for the Advancement of Science by Peter M. Millman and Miriam S. Burland of the National Research Council, Dominion Observatory, in Canada.

Search for 'Loot' Is Proven Short

DAYTON (AP)—Detectives began a search Wednesday for the man Leonard D. Baty said had robbed him of $1,000 in cash and $1,400 in checks.

The search was short.

Minutes later Baty called to explain he had remembered taking the money and checks from one hiding place and putting them in another.

Suez Clearance To Start Today

CAIRO (AP)—Lt. Gen. Raymond A. Wheeler announced today the Egyptian government has agreed the U. N. salvage fleet can begin clearing the southern end of the Suez Canal immediately. Wheeler said the clearing operation would begin today.

Cairo newspapers said Egyptian technicians already had started clearing channels at Ismailia, the canal midpoint, and Suez, its southern terminus, "preparatory to conducting research about sunken ships." But this obviously referred only to the clearing of mines from the channel, begun by the Egyptians earlier this week.

A British ship and two French vessels also are continuing salvage operations in the Port Said harbor, the canal's northern entrance. This work was begun by the British occupation force, which also cleared a channel through the northern third of the canal.

Wheeler's statement did not make clear that salvage ships would be used in the operation around Suez. His statement was released by the U. N. information office in Cairo.

A spokesman for the Egyptian Canal Authority said the U. N. announcement had not been confirmed by Mahmoud Yanes, the canal authority director.

Solon Opposes Refugee Quota Hike by Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Burleson (D-Tex.) said today he will oppose any legislative proposal by President Eisenhower to boost the number of Hungarian refugees allowed to come to America.

But Rep. Burlick (R-ND) said he would favor raising the Hungarian refugee quota, now filled at 2,500. Burlick is a member of the Judiciary Committee which would consider such legislation. Burleson is not, but heads a special security group of the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

The opposing views were a sign that an Eisenhower proposal to ease the refugee problem might not have entirely smooth sailing in Congress.

Wednesday Eisenhower ordered U. S. agencies to continue processing applications of refugees who want to come to this country, even though the present quota is all allotted.

Assistant press secretary Murray Snyder, in announcing the President's action, made clear it is a tentative move pending a final decision on whether to raise the quota.

Burleson said admitting the refugees cannot be justified either for national interest or humanitarian reasons.

He said the large number of escapes allowed shows the Russians feel it is to their advantage to have the mass exodus. Further, he said, the escapees are not carefully screened and there could be Communists among them.

Negotiations Resume Today To Break Long Phone Strike

COLUMBUS (AP)—Negotiations between Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. and the Communications Workers of America are scheduled to resume here this afternoon in an effort to end the prolonged telephone strike in Ohio.

Federal mediators will sit in with Ohio Consolidated and CWA representatives.

Similar bargaining sessions which recessed before the Christmas holidays failed to produce any settlement. Renewal of a union shop clause, classification of supervisory personnel and other contract disputes are holding up agreement.

The CWA went on strike last July 15 when its 10-year contract with the company expired. On Oct. 15, Ohio Consolidated closed its exchanges in Portsmouth, New Boston and Sciotoville after stone-throwing and cable cutting incidents. The union has denied responsibility for any violence.

Ohio Consolidated has restored emergency phone service in Portsmouth and Sciotoville.

Bus Integration Troubles Grow In Deep South

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Gunfire, suspension of a bus system, possible court action and mass arrests marked efforts to integrate seating of Negroes and white persons on city bus systems in two racially troubled Southern states.

Gunshots echoed Wednesday night in Montgomery, Ala., where city buses were integrated Friday under federal court order. A blast from a shotgun loaded with birdshot hit one bus; nine .22-caliber bullets slammed into another.

One bus contained four Negro passengers and a white driver. The other was empty except for the driver. No injuries were reported in these first shooting incidents since integration of buses in this Alabama capital, scene of a yearlong Negro bus boycott.

At Tallahassee, capital of Florida (population 40,000), the city commission suspended the franchise of Cities Transit Co. because of "efforts of local Negroes to integrate" the bus system.

Police arrested the manager and nine bus drivers for Cities Transit Co. at Tallahassee early today for attempting to operate without a franchise. Manager Charles Carter put up $100 bonds each for those arrested and the buses were allowed to proceed.

CHARLES AUSLEY, company counsel, said "our franchise requires 30 days notice before it can be forfeited. Until the franchise is legally revoked, the bus company expects to continue operating."

The order was issued shortly after the Inter-Civic Council, a sparkplug of the Negro battle against segregation, announced a "ride the bus, integrated" campaign to get the rank and file of the city's 15,000 Negroes to defy segregated bus seating laws.

Earlier in the day a group of 11 Negroes took front seats on two buses which served white residential districts. Bus drivers made no effort to stop them. After they were seated, three white people went to the rear.

A similar and more widespread effort at Birmingham, Ala., resulted in the arrest of 21 Negroes in what was described by Negro leaders as a "peaceful demonstration."

The Rev. F. L. Shuttlesworth, 34-year-old Negro minister who has taken a leading role in the fight against seated segregation in Birmingham, called for an end to the demonstration in the wake of the arrests, but Negroes later voted to continue riding buses on an integrated basis.

Shuttlesworth said the 21 arrests "give us the right to ask the federal courts to enjoin the city of Birmingham from preventing us from sitting anywhere we want."

Shuttlesworth's home was damaged by a dynamite bomb Christmas night.

At Mobile, Ala., the Mobile City Lines, Inc., said it was no longer requiring Negroes to take rear seats on its buses and that drivers were being told to handle seating arrangements "as diplomatically as possible."

Informed of this decision, the Mobile City Commission sent a letter to the bus company ordering it to enforce segregation.

Runaway Bride Faces Questions

DENVER (AP)—Clo Ann Wiegner, 17-year-old runaway bride, was to be released from Denver General Hospital today and police said they will question her about her husband's escape.

A jail cell awaits the husband, 16-year-old Mike Wiegner. The hospital releases him Friday.

The young bride and groom were injured in a crash with a police car after a wild chase through Denver. Mike faces charges of auto theft and assault.

Wiegner has been charged in California with tying up Clo Ann's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Mowatt, and taking the girl off in the Mowatt car. They were married last month in Montana. Mike was sent to a California state mental hospital but escaped.

NEWNAN, Ga. (AP)—An explosion in the smelting department of an aluminum products plant today killed two workers and injured at least four others, one critically.

The blast destroyed a portion of the William L. Bonnell Co., located about 1/4 of a mile from the Newnan business section. Windows were broken in residences and tops were shorn from small pine trees more than a half mile away.

Company officials theorized that the blast was caused by dumping scrap aluminum wet from recent rains into the smelting pots with molten metal.

Authorizes Move To Give Municipal Court More Space

City Council, holding its final meeting of the year Wednesday night, took steps toward the possible expansion of Washington Cemetery, removed the tax on theater admissions for 1957 and authorized a remodeling project at City Hall to provide additional space for the Municipal Court offices.

The legislators appropriated $7,000 from the city's general fund to be used as the municipality's share in the $10,000 purchase price of a 9.41-acre tract, immediately west of the cemetery. The actual expenditure of the appropriated sum is contingent upon Union Township trustees providing the additional $3,000.

NEED for enlargement of the cemetery, which is operated jointly by the city and Union Township, has been recognized for some time, and the tract immediately to the west, owned by Bud and Mary Brownell, has been offered for the purpose of expanding the burial ground. It lies between the cemetery and a line 100 feet east of Ely St.

Union Township trustees will consider means of raising their share of the purchase price at a meeting Dec. 31. An $8,000 bond issue for the expansion and improvement of the cemetery was defeated by township voters last November.

COUNCIL'S decision to drop the 3 percent theater admissions tax for a second year follows a pattern adopted by many other cities whose movie houses have reported heavily declining revenues. The tax, which had netted the city approximately $100 per month, was not repealed but merely suspended for another 12-month period beginning Jan. 1.

The 3 percent tax on other amusements is still in effect. A remodeling program at City Hall was approved after Municipal Judge Max G. Dice pointed out in a letter to Council that the cubbyhole office adjoining the courtroom does not provide enough space for the growing number of records and that there is no privacy for conferences or study of cases.

Discussion of the request indicated that additional room could be made available by cutting through the north wall of the courtroom into the firemen's quarters where there is unused space.

This additional floor space would supplement that assigned to the city manager for an office some time ago.

Suez Clearance To Start Today

CAIRO (AP)—Lt. Gen. Raymond A. Wheeler announced today the Egyptian government has agreed the U. N. salvage fleet can begin clearing the southern end of the Suez Canal immediately. Wheeler said the clearing operation would begin today.

Cairo newspapers said Egyptian technicians already had started clearing channels at Ismailia, the canal midpoint, and Suez, its southern terminus, "preparatory to conducting research about sunken ships." But this obviously referred only to the clearing of mines from the channel, begun by the Egyptians earlier this week.

A British ship and two French vessels also are continuing salvage operations in the Port Said harbor, the canal's northern entrance. This work was begun by the British occupation force, which also cleared a channel through the northern third of the canal.

Solon Opposes Refugee Quota Hike by Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Burleson (D-Tex.) said today he will oppose any legislative proposal by President Eisenhower to boost the number of Hungarian refugees allowed to come to America.

But Rep. Burlick (R-ND) said he would favor raising the Hungarian refugee quota, now filled at 2,500. Burlick is a member of the Judiciary Committee which would consider such legislation. Burleson is not, but heads a special security group of the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

The opposing views were a sign that an Eisenhower proposal to ease the refugee problem might not have entirely smooth sailing in Congress. Wednesday Eisenhower ordered U. S. agencies to continue processing applications of refugees who want to come to this country, even though the present quota is all allotted.

Assistant press secretary Murray Snyder, in announcing the President's action, made clear it is a tentative move pending a final decision on whether to raise the quota.

Burleson said admitting the refugees cannot be justified either for national interest or humanitarian reasons.

He said the large number of escapes allowed shows the Russians feel it is to their advantage to have the mass exodus. Further, he said, the escapes are not carefully screened and there could be Communists among them.

Negotiations Resume Today To Break Long Phone Strike

COLUMBUS (AP)—Negotiations between Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. and the Communications Workers of America are scheduled to resume here this afternoon in an effort to end the prolonged telephone strike in Ohio.

Federal mediators will sit in with Ohio Consolidated and CWA representatives.

Similar bargaining sessions which recessed before the Christmas holidays failed to produce any settlement. Renewal of a union shop clause, classification of supervisory personnel and other contract disputes are holding up agreement.

The CWA went on strike last July 15 when its 3-year contract with the company expired. On Oct. 15, Ohio Consolidated closed its exchanges in Portsmouth, New Boston and Sciotoville after stone-throwing and cable cutting incidents. The union has denied responsibility for any violence.

Ohio Consolidated has restored emergency phone service in Portsmouth and Sciotoville.

cupation force, which also cleared a channel through the northern third of the canal.

Wheeler's statement did not make clear that salvage ships would be used in the operation around Suez. His statement was released by the U. N. information office in Cairo.

A spokesman for the Egyptian Canal Authority said the U. N. announcement had not been confirmed by Mahmoud Yanes, the canal authority director.

"FRANKLY, I doubt if the work will begin today although some planning and studying may be done," the spokesman added.

The bulk of Wheeler's existing fleet is collected around the northern end of the canal from Port Said to El Cap.

At the last account no U. N. salvage ships have been able to travel down the canal farther south than El Cap but later reports said two salvage ships, one Danish and one Dutch, had already arrived at Suez coming up through the Red Sea from the south, and that 20 more salvage vessels were at Aden awaiting a signal to come to Suez.

These may be British and French ships, however, and there was no indication the Egyptians had yet agreed to their use.

The three British and French ships working at Port Said harbor are finishing jobs they already had started before withdrawal of British-French forces, an authoritative Egyptian source said. The Egyptian consent to their use covered only work already begun, it was said. Eight other British ships in the harbor remained idle, the source reported.

The U. N. fleet consists of vessels hired on contract from salvagers of several neutral nations and will eventually consist of 20 to 30 craft. Some of these are not expected to arrive on the scene until Jan. 11.

Ohio Soil Bank Allocation Set

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson has allocated $750,685,000 for payments to farmers who retire land from production next year under the soil bank.

The purpose of the soil bank is to encourage farmers to reduce production of major surplus crops by offering them payments for keeping cropland idle.

The allocations by crops for Ohio included:

Corn—$15,695,000.

Wheat—$5,351,000.

Bus Integration Troubles Grow In Deep South

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Gunfire, suspension of a bus system, possible court action and mass arrests marked efforts to integrate seating of Negroes and white persons on city bus systems in two racially troubled Southern states.

Gunshots echoed Wednesday night in Montgomery, Ala., where city buses were integrated Friday under federal court order. A blast from a shotgun loaded with birdshot hit one bus; nine .22-caliber bullets slammed into another.

One bus contained four Negro passengers and a white driver. The other was empty except for the driver. No injuries were reported in these first shooting incidents since integration of buses in this Alabama capital, scene of a yearlong Negro bus boycott.

At Tallahassee, capital of Florida (population 40,000), the city commission suspended the franchise of Cities Transit Co. because of "efforts of local Negroes to integrate" the bus system.

Police arrested the manager and nine bus drivers for Cities Transit Co. at Tallahassee early today for attempting to operate without a franchise. Manager Charles Carter put up $100 bonds each for those arrested and the buses were allowed to proceed.

CHARLES AUSLEY, company counsel, said "our franchise requires 30 days notice before it can be forfeited. Until the franchise is legally revoked, the bus company expects to continue operating."

The order was issued shortly after the Inter-Civic Council, a sparkplug of the Negro battle against segregation, announced a "ride the bus, integrated" campaign to get the rank and file of the city's 15,000 Negroes to defy segregated bus seating laws.

Earlier in the day a group of 11 Negroes took front seats on two buses which served white residential districts. Bus drivers made no effort to stop them. After they were seated, three white people went to the rear.

A similar and more widespread effort at Birmingham, Ala., resulted in the arrest of 21 Negroes in what was described by Negro leaders as a "peaceful demonstration."

The Rev. F. L. Shuttlesworth, 34-year-old Negro minister who has taken a leading role in the fight against seated segregation in Birmingham, called for an end to the demonstration in the wake of the arrests, but Negroes later voted to continue riding buses on an integrated basis.

Shuttlesworth said the 21 arrests "give us the right to ask the federal courts to enjoin the city of Birmingham from preventing us from sitting anywhere we want."

Shuttlesworth's home was damaged by a dynamite bomb Christmas night.

At Mobile, Ala., the Mobile City Lines, Inc., said it was no longer requiring Negroes to take rear seats on its buses and that drivers were being told to handle seating arrangements "as diplomatically as possible."

Informed of this decision, the Mobile City Commission sent a letter to the bus company ordering it to enforce segregation.

Runaway Bride Faces Questions

DENVER (AP)—Clo Ann Wiegner, 17-year-old runaway bride, was to be released from Denver General Hospital today and police said they will question her about her husband's escapades.

A jail cell awaits the husband, 16-year-old Mike Wiegner. The hospital releases him Friday.

The young bride and groom were injured in a crash with a police car after a wild chase through Denver. Mike faces charges of auto theft and assault.

FIRE ENGULFS MOVIE COLONY MANSIONS—Roaring flames spread over thousands of acres in the heart of Hollywood's Malibu playground, claiming one life and destroying at least 27 homes. Among the homes burned were those of TV stars Hugh O'Brian (Wyatt Earp) and emcee Ralph Edwards.

Another Record Slaughter Ahead?

CHICAGO (AP)—Traffic deaths, which soared to an all time high for any holiday during the Christmas period, may also hit a record toll during the long New Year weekend.

Deaths on the nation's highways from 6 p. m. Friday to midnight Tuesday, the National Safety Council estimates may total 490. That would be 33 more than the record of 407 deaths for a New Year period, established during a four-day span in 1952-53.

The 490 traffic toll was termed possible by the council "unless there is a sharp improvement in the driving habits that shocked the nation over Christmas."

It said the toll for a similar nonholiday period at this time of year would be 420.

In the four-day Christmas period, traffic fatalities totaled 706, the first time during any holiday period in U. S. history they climbed above 700. The council's pre-Christmas estimate was 660.

During the 1955 Christmas and 1956 New Year holidays, the combined traffic death tolls hit a record of 973. The New Year period total was 364. Each holiday period for counting purposes, was three days.

The final tabulation of all accidental deaths for this Christmas period of 102 hours showed a total of 884, a new all-time high for any holiday. The previous record was 805, during the Fourth of July celebration in 1955.

In addition to the 706 traffic deaths, 124 persons perished in fires and 124 others lost their lives in falls and other accidents.

critical spot," Ives said.

Opponents of a rules change argue that no change can be made unless 64 senators — two thirds of the total membership of 96 — vote for it.

The key to the question is whether the Senate is a "continuing body," since two thirds of its members normally hold their seats from one Congress to the next, and thus should keep its old rules.

Ives, Douglas and their associates contend that the Senate should start afresh in each new Congress and adopt new rules by majority vote.

February Draft Quota Trimmed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department today cut its monthly draft quota, asking for drafting of 14,000 men during February. This compares with 17,000 for each of the last four months.

The announcement said "the lower, short-month February quota reflects an adjustment for larger manpower gains in January and February, traditionally months of high enlistments in both the active and reserve military forces."

All of the February draft quota will be for the Army.

Vice President No. 116 Named

NEW YORK (AP)—The First National City Bank, the country's third largest bank, today appointed vice presidents No. 115, 114, 113 and 112.

The vice presidents preside over First National City's worldwide organization, including 70 branches overseas, and its affiliate, the City Bank Farmers Trust Co.

Sumatra Rebel Chieftain Quits

JAKARTA (AP)—The leader of the army revolt in north Sumatra was believed to have surrendered to his second in command early today after tanks surrounded his home.

Lt. Col. Djarin Gintings announced in a radio broadcast from Medan, the north Sumatran capital, that he had replaced the rebel leader, Col. Maludin Simbolon, as military commander of the area.

Gintings pledged to "obey President Sukarno" and said "from now on connections with the central government will carry on as before."

Sukarno earlier had ordered Simbolon to hand over his command to Gintings. Simbolon had supplied the local governments named by the central regime of Premier Ali Sastroamidjojo and demanded Sastroamidjojo's resignation.

There was no immediate word from central Sumatra, where Lt. Col. Achmad Hussein took over the government last week in a bloodless coup similar to Simbolon's.

TEL AVIV (AP)—Israel officially opened a naval base today at the Gulf of Aqaba port of Eilat. The new base will guard the nation's southern sea lane through the gulf to the Red Sea. Egyptian gun positions overlooking the gulf from the adjoining Sinai Peninsula had kept most Israeli-bound shipping out before the invasion of the Sinai.

LONDON (AP)—Chancellor of the Exchequer Harold Macmillan today denied any intention of quitting his job and the House of Commons for a peerage and a seat in the House of Lords.

TAIPEI (AP)—Nationalist army headquarters claimed today that artillery fire from the offshore islands and commando raids killed 1,262 persons on the Communist-held Chinese mainland in 1956.

PARIS (AP)—The upper house of the French Parliament Wednesday night approved 209-66 the French-German treaty returning the Saar Valley to West Germany. The National Assembly ratified it earlier. The treaty now needs only the signatures of Presidents Rene Coty of France and Theodor Heuss of West Germany.

TEL AVIV (AP)—Israeli newspapers said today fedayeen raiders from Jordan made a series of attacks on villages in central Israel and were driven off by guards and watchmen.

Bank Chief Named

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Reserve Board today announced the appointment of Arthur B. Van Buskirk of Pittsburgh as chairman of its Cleveland bank succeeding John C. Virden, Cleveland, whose term expires Dec. 31.

Malibu Blaze's Perimeter Now Up to 22 Miles

MALIBU, Calif. (AP)—A gale-whipped brush and timber fire raged with new fury today as two new hot spots broke out and the perimeter increased to 22 miles.

The fire, burning for the second day in a scenic area extending from the Pacific Ocean inland to the Santa Monica Mountains, has now consumed more than 20,000 acres. A number of substantial homes have been destroyed and one man has died.

Winds up to 50 miles per hour harrassed the fire crews at the lower levels and those higher up reported they were all but helpless in the face of gusts which frequently reached 70 to 80 m.p.h.

The new hot spots appeared in the early morning hours. One raged down coral canyon to the Pacific Coast highway, U. S. 101, on the east. The other broke out in Sequit Canyon on the west, first burning to the ocean, then skittering back to the mouth of the canyon and flaming north toward Mulholland Highway.

THE STRICKEN area, dotted with expensive homes, beach cottages, large and small trailers and ranches, is located where the coastline runs east and west. It is 35 miles northwest of downtown Los Angeles and is traversed by the Pacific Coast Highway, U. S. 101, which runs from Los Angeles to Santa Barbara and San Francisco.

Los Angeles County Fire Chief Keith Klinger estimated that at least 27 homes have been destroyed.

Homes destroyed include a luxury beach house owned by Ralph Edwards, television master of ceremonies. Edwards had returned to his Beverly Hills residence after giving a party at the beach house Christmas evening.

Still standing were the neighboring homes of actor Raymond Burr, composer Gordon Jenkins and producer Charles Erskine. The home of movie producer Arthur Freed and its $150,000 orchid nursery were spared when the wind shifted but the adjoining $75,000 home of his brother, Hugo Freed, was burned by the fast-moving flames.

A reporter encountered actor Jackie Coogan using a residential telephone in the Paradise Cove area. Coogan said he and his neighbors were getting out, although apparently not in immediate danger at the time.

Several hundred families were evacuated as flames roared down one canyon after another.

MANY RETURNED, however, after the flames passed through their particular area, leaving nothing more to burn.

Frightened deer, rabbits and coyotes fled from the mountains and many perished.

Chief Klinger and his aides have approximately 1,000 men in the battle. The Red Cross set up evacuation centers. The Salvation Army sent out mobile canteens.

Medical help was sent from Los Angeles emergency hospitals to aid in treatment of dozens of fire fighters suffering from burns or smoke inhalation.

Known fatality was Frank L. Dichover Jr., 32, Zuma Beach, found dead with a broken leg in his wrecked automobile. He had sent his family to safety, then had attempted to save his house when a wall of flame caught him.

Aluminum Plant Blast Kills Pair

NEWNAN, Ga. (AP)—An explosion in the smelting department of an aluminum products plant early today killed two workers and injured at least four others, one critically.

The blast destroyed a portion of the William L. Bonnell Co., located about 3 1/2 miles from the Newnan business section. Windows were broken in residences and tops were shorn from small pine trees more than a half mile away. Company officials theorized that the blast was caused by dumping scrap aluminum wet from recent rains into the smelting pots with molten metal.

Water Company Lays New Main To Willis Grove

8-Inch Conduit
To Take Care of
Northward Growth

The Ohio Water Service Co. Wednesday started laying an 8-inch water main to serve the 36-acre Willis Grove subdivision that lies east of Dayton Ave. and north of Jupiter St.

The tract was annexed to Washington C. H. about six months ago. Amerson Warner, manager of the water company here, and City Manager James F. Parkinson explained the extension of water service into the new section of the city was delayed when original plans were changed to take care of future development and growth of the city in that direction.

When the new subdivision was laid out, they said, plans were made to install a 6-inch main, but after inquiries had been received from DuPont, Inc., Wilmington, Del., and another unidentified industry concerning a water supply, those plans were changed. Now an 8-inch main is being laid to take care of future expansion, Warner said.

THE NEW MAIN will extend 2,700 feet, a little more than half a mile, along Dayton Ave., from Jupiter St. Warner said plans also call for laying two laterals east from the main into the residential subdivision, which has been platted for 81 lots, with two streets running east from Dayton Ave. and one north from Jupiter St. The plans also call for six fire hydrants.

Northeast of the subdivision is the 75-acre tract owned by the water company on which the 40-acre reservoir is located.

DuPont has acquired a 67.184-acre tract bordered by Route 35 (an extension of Dayton Ave.), the D & T Railroad and Bush Rd. on which the company plans to build an auto plant.

It is about four miles north of the city limits, but Warner said the distance was not too great for an extension of the new water main. He added, however, that, should the main be extended that far, a booster station probably would be necessary.

Warner did not reveal from what other industry the inquiry about water supply had been received. Neither did he say where it might be located or whether there is still interest in locating here.

2 More Yankee Newsmen Enter Communist China

HONG KONG — Two more American newsmen, a reporter and a photographer, today were reported to be in Peking, capital of Communist China.

The Peking correspondent for a British news agency cabled Hong Kong that Edmund Stevens and Philip Hollington, both of Look magazine, arrived in Peking Wednesday from Moscow.

The U. S. State Department has long banned travel in Red China by Americans. It said it placed the ban because Communist China was holding U. S. citizens as "political hostages".

Another American newsman, the first to defy the State Department ban, crossed the border at Hong Kong Monday for a trip into Communist China. He was William Worthy of the Baltimore Afro-American, who said he had been given a one-month visa by Chinese Communist authorities.

Mailorder Bride Wins Court Test

EL CAJON, Calif. — A mail-order bride's demand that she be returned to Spain at her husband's expense was granted Wednesday.

Mrs. Adelaida De Leon Yendrica Archa, 32, said in municipal court that Salvadore Archa courted her by mail and that they were married by proxy at a church ceremony in Seville four months ago.

She said she later found that Archa, a plant nursery employee was 64 instead of 41, that he was not a man of means and that he did not own a home.

'Bright' Children Seen Peace Hope

NEW YORK — A University of Cincinnati psychologist said today she thinks that getting bright children together from different countries can help peace.

Dr. Doris T. Allen, associate professor of psychology at U.C., told the annual meeting of the Assn. for the Advancement of Science that relatively little work to ward peace has been done among gifted children.

She said, "An average mind can decide to go to war, but a person far above average in ingenuity in human relations is needed to avert wars, especially in the next 50 years."

Marie Dionne's Business Folds

MONTREAL — Marie Dionne has closed her flower shop, the first personal business venture of any of the famous quintuplets.

Unconfirmed reports said the shop lost $25,000 during its seven-month operation. Neighbors said it attracted large numbers of tourists, but apparently Marie and not flowers was their object.

Marie's assistant, Ellen Bourget said Miss Dionne had closed the business because of personal reasons. She added it was not a matter of Marie's health, which has been delicate.

Inheritance Tax To Subdivisions Totals $56,891

Jasper Township
Gets Top Share in
Two Distributions

Inheritance taxes distributed to the 10 townships and five municipalities in Fayette County during the past fiscal year amounted to $56,891.52, records at the county auditor's office show.

This is just half of the total amount of the inheritance taxes collected; for the other half goes to the state.

Tax distributions are made twice a year by Auditor Harry Allen, in February and August.

Inheritance taxes go to the taxing district in which the estate of the decedent is located.

Jasper Township got the biggest share of the $56,891 distribution this year. It amounted to a total of $16,455.96 of which $15,671.82 was paid last February and $406.72 in the distribution this month.

Washington C. H. got almost as much, $15,504.24 from the payment of $3,340.89 in February and $12,154.47 this month.

NOT FAR behind was Paint Township with a total of $14,839.40, of which $14,322.93 was paid in February and $516.47 in the December distribution.

Distributions to the county's other taxing districts (first half, second half and total for the year) were:

Green $63.86, $406.72 for $470.58; Jefferson $2,380.59, $417.16 for $2,797.75; Perry $626.93, $2,057.92 for $2,684.85; Union $689.42, $42.26 for $731.68; Wayne $1,932.19, $931.27 for $2,863.46; Jeffersonville $42.57, $25.95 for $68.52; Milledgeville $185.23, $4.23 for $189.46.

Concord Township and Octa received no inheritance tax this fiscal year and Marion Township participated only in the February distribution when it got $226.64. Bloomingburg got nothing from the December distribution, but it did get $58.98 last February.

THE TAX from the V. R. McCoy estate was by far the largest individual payment.

The $39,551.05 February distribution was more than twice as big as the December payments of $17,340.47.

Mrs. Mary Morris, a deputy in the auditor's office, said this was one of the largest, if not the largest, inheritance tax distributions ever made here. She estimated the normal distribution total at around $20,000 to $30,000 a year.

In addition to the $56,891.52 distributed in Fayette County, $7,282.46 collected in settlement of estates of Fayette Countyans was sent to other counties in which property was located.

About 22.3 per cent of all families in the Federal District of Mexico City—which corresponds to the District of Columbia in Washington, D.-C.—have television sets.

Flying Saucer Injures Man, 23

COLUMBUS — A 23-year-old suburban Whitehall man was the embarrassed victim of a flying saucer Wednesday.

He reported to the Whitehall fire station and requested first aid for bruises and cuts about the face.

He explained that an argument with his wife was climaxed when she scored a direct hit with a saucer from across the room.

Federal Delinquency Program Planned

WASHINGTON — Secretary of Welfare Folsom said today the Eisenhower Administration will renew next year its proposal for federal aid to the states to attack juvenile delinquency.

Folsom said the new proposal would call for a five-year program designed to encourage improvements in police, court, probation and special social services.

He mentioned no specific amounts. An administration bill which did not pass this year proposed grants totaling $8 million over a two-year period, to be followed by whatever aid Congress voted.

Cafe Gun Battle Fatal to Man, 28

CLEVELAND — A 28-year-old man was slain early today in a gun battle with the manager of a restaurant here.

The victim was identified by detectives as Carl Woodall, 28.

Police said Edward Vann, 39, who was wounded in the left hand and foot, is being held in the prison ward at city hospital pending a ruling by the prosecutor.

Detectives said they were told Woodall ordered a cup of coffee and refused to pay for it. When Vann insisted that Woodall pay for the coffee, the latter started shooting and Vann returned the fire.

Convict Granted Trip to Funeral

JACKSON, Mich. — Prison officials related today to let Donald F. Wolfe, 25, attend his mother's funeral despite his escape in a futile effort to see her before she died.

The former trusty walked away from a southern Michigan prison farm last week when he learned his mother, Mrs. Katherine Wolfe, 58, was critically ill in Los Angeles. She died before he could reach her and Wolfe gave himself up to St. Louis police.

Funeral services will be held Saturday in Battle Creek, Mich.

Nike Seen Added To Europe Army

HEIDELBERG, Germany — The Nike, a supersonic anti-aircraft guided missile, may be the next weapon to boost the punch of the 250,000-man U. S. Army in Europe.

The indication that the Nike may be added to the Army's growing European arsenal was contained in a year end review which said firepower and mobility were improved greatly during 1956.

Man for man, it added, the U. S. force in Europe possesses "more killing power than any other army in the world."

Kuwait, a sheikdom in the Near East, gives all its government officials considerable money rewards so they can be "above temptation" to take bribes.

Quiet Philadelphia To Grow Gay Again as Mummers Parade Jan. 1

By JIM FRANCIS
(Central Press Association)
PHILADELPHIA — The quiet dignity that is a Philadelphia trademark will give way to rollicking humor, music and gay costumes this New Year's Day, as it has for 56 consecutive years.

While most of the world's citizens are ready for a calm, restful day after welcoming in 1957, some 10,000 hardy male citizens of the Quaker City will parade up Broad Street in an event that is without comparison anywhere in the universe.

The event is Philadelphia's annual Mummers parade. Bedecked in bright, colorful and expensive outfits, the Mummers will spread their cheer before more than a million faithful folk who will brave all sorts of rugged weather to watch the activity. Still millions more will see the spectacle on television throughout parts of the east.

Born as a neighborhood celebration in the early days of the 19th century in the "Neck" section of South Philadelphia, the Mummers now is the most spectacular and unusual parade of its type. More than 30 clubs, all from this city, will bid for honors and some 250,000 in prizes awarded by the local City Council.

THE PARADE has been accepted as a general Philadelphia tradition since Jan. 1, 1901. It was the first year that the Shooters, as they are called here, made their city-wide debut in a parade up Broad Street. The city officials recognized the parade's value then and made available $1,725 in prize money.

Philadelphia's Mummers trace their heritage back to the early Swedish immigrants who settled in the southern part of the city known as Tincum. The idea really came from the Swedish custom of visiting friends the day before Christmas. It blossomed into a Christmas Week celebration as various groups vied for honors in outdoing each other in the gaiety and brightness of their costume.

As the event grew, it attracted more attention and eventually was adopted officially by the city as an annual tradition. Now despite the weather, Mummers take over the city on New Year's Day. Garbed in large and expensive outfits, the bandsmen strum their banjos and toot on saxophones to provide a pleasant and unusual musical treat. The string bands are pretty much of a Philadelphia tradition in themselves.

the Mummers is that only men can participate.

However, many of the husky males bedeck themselves in fancy and colorful outfits that would evoke praise in Paris dress salons. They are featured in the comic division. This same division also spotlights groups emphasizing a timely theme like Elvis Presley or some political figure.

HONORS in the fancy dress division generally are based on the group captain's costume and the club motif. Many of the captains' capes stretch for 35 to 50 yards and are carried by several aides. A captain's outfit may weigh as much as 60 pounds, with only the stretching cape carried by associates.

No sooner is the annual parade over than work starts anew on the costumes for the next year. Once the design and theme are set, members and their wives and friends begin preparation for the new outfits.

CLUBS and organizations conduct a variety of fund-making projects throughout the year to pay for the costumes. Club outfits cost as much as $25,000 and $5,000 often is spent for a captain's costume. Club members guard their design and theme with a secrecy that would put the FBI to shame.

The parade starts early in the morning and continues until late afternoon as group after group rolls up the wide street. Judges, selected secretly by city officials, review the units from their city Hall stand, where the Mummers display their brightest cavorting to capture prizes.

The Mummers are plain, hard-working men who find the New Year's Day spectacle an outlet for their energy. Members range from plumbers to milkmen, barbers to cab drivers. However, come Jan. 1 they shed their everyday roles for a day of fun, laughter and cheer.

Water Company Lays New Main To Willis Grove

To Take Care of
Northward Growth

The Ohio Water Service Co. Wednesday started laying an 8-inch water main to serve the 36-acre Willis Grove subdivision that lies east of Dayton Ave. and north of Jupiter St.

The tract was annexed to Washington C. H. about six months ago.

Amerson Warner, manager of the water company here, and City Manager James F. Parkinson explained the extension of water service into the new section of the city was delayed when original plans were changed to take care of future development and growth of the city in that direction.

When the new subdivision was laid out, they said, plans were made to install a 6-inch main, but after inquiries had been received from DuPont, Inc., Wilmington, Del., and another unidentified industry concerning a water supply, those plans were changed. Now an 8-inch main is being laid to take care of future expansion, Warner said.

THE NEW MAIN will extend 2,700 feet, a little more than half a mile, along Dayton Ave., from Jupiter St. Warner said plans also call for laying two laterals east from the main into the residential subdivision, which has been platted for 81 lots, with two streets running east from Dayton Ave. and one north from Jupiter St. The plans also call for six fire hydrants.

Northeast of the subdivision is the 75-acre tract owned by the water company on which the 40-acre reservoir is located.

DuPont has acquired a 67.184-acre tract bordered by Route 35 (an extension of Dayton Ave.), the D.T. & I Railroad and Bush Rd. on which the company plans to build an auto paint plant.

It is about four miles north of the city limits, but Warner said the distance was not too great for an extension of the new water main. He added, however, that, should the main be extended that far, a booster station probably would be necessary.

Warner did not reveal from what other industry the inquiry about water supply had been received. Neither did he say where it might be located or whether there is still interest in locating here.

2 More Yankee Newsmen Enter Communist China

HONG KONG (AP) — Two more American newsmen, a reporter and a photographer, today were reported to be in Peiping, capital of Communist China.

The Peiping correspondent for a British news agency cabled Hong Kong that Edmund Stevens and Phillip Hollington, both of Look magazine, arrived in Peiping Wednesday from Moscow.

The U. S. State Department has long banned travel in Red China by Americans. It said it placed the ban because Communist China was holding U. S. citizens as "political hostages."

Another American newsman, the first to defy the State Department ban, crossed the border at Hong Kong Monday for a trip into Communist China. He was William Worth of the Baltimore Afro-American, who said he had been given a one-month visa by Chinese Communist authorities.

Mailorder Bride Wins Court Test

EL CAJON, Calif. (AP) — A mail-order bride's demand that she be returned to Spain at her husband's expense was granted Wednesday.

Mrs. Adelaida De Leon Yenderica Arocha, 32, said in municipal court that Salvador Arocha courted her by mail and that they were married by proxy at a church ceremony in Seville four months ago.

She said she later found that Arocha, a plant nursery employee was 64 instead of 41, that he was not a man of means and that he did not own a home.

'Bright' Children Seen Peace Hope

NEW YORK (AP) — A University of Cincinnati psychologist said today she thinks that getting bright children together from different countries can help peace.

Dr. Doris T. Allen, associate professor of psychology at U.C., told the annual meeting of the Assn. for the Advancement of Science that relatively little work toward peace has been done among gifted children.

She said, "An average mind can decide to go to war, but a person far above average in ingenuity in human relations is needed to avert wars, especially in the next 50 years."

Marie Dionne's Business Folds

MONTREAL (AP) — Marie Dionne has closed her flower shop, the first personal business venture of any of the famous quintuplets.

Unconfirmed reports said the shop lost $25,000 during its seven-month operation. Neighbors said it attracted large numbers of tourists, but apparently Marie and not flowers was their object.

Marie's assistant, Ellen Bourget said Miss Dionne had closed the business because of personal reasons. She added it was not a matter of Marie's health, which has been delicate.

Inheritance Tax To Subdivisions Totals $56,891

Jasper Township
Gets Top Share in
Two Distributions

Inheritance taxes distributed to the 10 townships and five municipalities in Fayette County during the past fiscal year amounted to $56,891.52, records at the county auditor's office show.

This is just half of the total amount of the inheritance taxes collected; for the other half goes to the state.

Tax distributions are made twice a year by Auditor Harry Allen, in February and August.

Inheritance taxes go to the taxing district in which the estate of the decedent is located.

Jasper Township got the biggest share of the $56,891 distribution this year. It amounted to a total of $16,455.96 of which $15,671.82 was paid last February and $406.72 in the distribution this month.

Washington C. H. got almost as much, $15,504.24 from the payment of $3,349.89 in February and $12,154.47 this month.

NOT FAR behind was Paint Township with a total of $14,839.40, of which $14,322.93 was paid in February and $516.47 in the December distribution.

Distributions to the county's other taxing districts (first half, second half and total for the year) were:

Green $63.86, $406.72 for $470.58; Jefferson $2,380.59, $417.16 for $2,797.75; Perry $626.93, $2,057.92 for $2,684.85; Union $689.42, $42.26 for $731.68; Wayne $1,932.19, $931.27 for $2,863.46; Jeffersonville $42.57, $25.95 for $68.52; Milledgeville $185.23, $4.23 for $189.46.

Concord Township and Octa received no inheritance tax the last fiscal year and Marion Township participated only in the February distribution when it got $226.64. Bloomingburg got nothing from the December distribution, but it did get $58.98 last February.

THE TAX from the V. R. McCoy estate was by far the largest individual payment.

The $39,551.05 February distribution was more than twice as big as the December payments of $17,340.47.

Mrs. Mary Morris, a deputy in the auditor's office, said this was one of the largest, if not the largest, inheritance tax distributions ever made here. She estimated the normal distribution total at around $20,000 to $30,000 a year.

In addition to the $56,891.52 distributed in Fayette County, $7,282.46 collected in settlement of estates of Fayette Countyans was sent to other counties in which property was located.

CLEVELAND (AP) — A 28-year-old man was slain early today in a gun battle with the manager of a restaurant here.

The victim was identified by detectives as Carl Woodall, 28.

Police said Edward Vann, 39, who was wounded in the left hand and foot, is being held in the prison ward at city hospital pending a ruling by the prosecutor.

Detectives said they were told Woodall ordered a cup of coffee and refused to pay for it. When Vann insisted that Woodall pay for the coffee, the latter started shooting and Vann returned the fire.

Convict Granted Trip to Funeral

JACKSON, Mich. (AP) — Prison officials related today to let Donald F. Wolfe, 25, attend his mother's funeral despite his escape in a futile effort to see her before she died.

The former tourist walked away from a southern Michigan prison farm last week when he learned his mother, Mrs. Katherine Wolfe, 58, was critically ill in Los Angeles. She died before he could reach her and Wolfe gave himself up to St. Louis police.

Funeral services will be held Saturday in Battle Creek, Mich.

Nike Seen Added To Europe Army

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP) — The Nike, a supersonic anti-aircraft guided missile, may be the next weapon to boost the punch of the 250,000-man U. S. Army in Europe.

The indication that the Nike may be added to the Army's growing European arsenal was contained in a year end review which said firepower and mobility were improved greatly during 1956.

Man for man, it added, the U.S. force in Europe possesses "more killing power than any other army in the world."

Quiet Philadelphia To Grow Gay Again as Mummers Parade Jan. 1

(Central Press Association)

PHILADELPHIA — The quiet dignity that is a Philadelphia trademark will give way to rollicking humor, music and gay costumes this New Year's Day, as it has for 56 consecutive years.

While most of the world's citizens are ready for a calm, restful day after welcoming in 1957, some 10,000 hardy male citizens of the Quaker City will parade up Broad Street in an event that is without comparison anywhere in the universe.

The event is Philadelphia's annual Mummers parade. Bedecked in bright, colorful and expensive outfits, the Mummers will spread their cheer before more than a million faithful folk who will brave all sorts of rugged weather to watch the activity. Still millions more will see the spectacle on television throughout parts of the east.

Born as a neighborhood celebration in the early days of the 19th century in the "Neck" section of South Philadelphia, the Mummers now is the most spectacular and unusual parade of its type. More than 30 clubs, all from this city, will bid for honors and some 350,000 in prizes awarded by the local City Council.

THE PARADE has been accepted as a general Philadelphia tradition since Jan. 1, 1901. It was the first year that the Shooters, as they are called here, made their city-wide debut in a parade up Broad Street. The city officials recognized the parade's value then and made available $1,725 in prize money.

Philadelphia's Mummers trace their heritage back to the early Swedish immigrants who settled in the southern part of the city known as Tincicum. The idea really came from the Swedish custom of visiting friends the day before Christmas. It blossomed into a Christmas Week celebration as various groups vied for honors in outdoing each other in the gaiety and brightness of their costume.

As the event grew, it attracted more attention and eventually was adopted officially by the city as an annual tradition. Now despite the weather, Mummers take over the city on New Year's Day. Hardy Shooters enjoy the more rugged weather conditions and often regard them as a challenge to their endurance and interest.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY
As much of the site of Washington C. H. was very swampy when the town was laid out in 1810, or 146 years ago, considerable drainage was necessary, but it was not until many years later that the first sewers were built in the city, and they were of brick produced in or near the present corporate limits of the city.

These sewers are nearly three feet in width and 2½ feet in height, with nearly flat bottom, curved sides and arched top. Although they were constructed probably 100 years ago, or even more, the sewers have continued to function throughout the years with little attention given them.

They still form some of the most important drains in the city. Clyde Smith, street and sewer superintendent, says that one of these three main brick sewers starts near the intersection of E. Temple St. and Delaware St., and extends southward across Market, Columbus Ave., Washington Ave., East St. and Broadway, emptying into the intercepting sewer in Paint Creek, east of Sycamore St. It formerly drained directly into Paint Creek, as did all other sewers of the city.

The brick sewer crosses Washington Ave., between the Museum property and the Edwards Hopkins home on Washington Ave.

The second brick sewer starts on Rawling St. and extends southward to Paint Creek, emptying into the intercepting sewer between North and Sycamore St.

It crosses E. Court St. near or under the Schneider property, 335 E. Court St., and E. Temple St. about one block east of the school grounds.

The third brick sewer starts east on N. Fayette St. near Temple, and extends northwest toward the intercepting sewer along Paint Creek, a block northeast of the Millikan Ave. bridge.

The top of the sewer is exposed at a point near where it passes under the B & O Railroad.

The sewer crosses N. Fayette St. near the Paint St. intersection.

DRIED APPLE PIE

One of the favorite pies up to 50 years ago was that made from dried apples, but I doubt if there is a single dried apple in Fayette County today.

Apples were peeled, cored, and cut into sections, then placed in the sun to dry. Usually mosquito netting was placed over the apples to keep the flies away.

It required two or three days for the apples to dry, and they were then placed in bags or other containers and stored until they were to be used.

Sometimes the apples were simply cooked and served, but most of the time they were used for pies, and when spices and sugar were added, were much in demand.

Not only were apples dried and used in the winter months, but peaches, pears, grapes, pumpkin, corn and other staple foods were dried in the same manner and added greatly to the menus in the winter time.

In those days the only canned foods available were those canned in the homes, usually in stone jars, because glass jars for fruit canning were not available.

DECORATIONS AT PEAK

Never before has there been such a lavish display of Christmas decorations about business places and homes throughout the city and county, as during the present Christmas.

The beauty and originality in some of the displays reflects a great deal of careful planning, artistic ability, and expense.

The number of decorated Christmas trees was at an all time high, and tens of thousands of vari-colored bulbs are being used in the widespread celebration of the Christmas season.

Most of these displays will continue the remainder of this week, although some already have been dismantled.

Some of the most beautiful decorations are the most simple, and the range of colors used in lighting has been unusual.

Inasmuch as the powerful 15,000-lumen standard lights brightly illuminate the uptown district, vari-colored lights are not as effective as they were in the days when the illumination was less than half that of the present.

There are a few Christmas roses (helleborus niger) or black hellebore in this city and they are still in bloom, although they started flowering in October this year which is somewhat earlier than usual.

The Christmas Rose is from Europe, and is perfectly hardy, usually blooming at its best about Christmas time, regardless of snow and cold.

Mrs. Rose Hughey, East St., has one of the roses. Mrs. Walter Craig had what probably was the largest clump of the roses in the city, but a man mowing the yard cut the rose back, and it failed to reappear. I recall that at one time it had about 150 blossoms at Christmas time.

I formerly had one of the roses, and have plucked the flowers by removing the snow from about it. The rose died two years ago.

Mrs. Wert Briggs, Temple St., has another of the roses, and, as I recall, there are a very few others in the city.

The Christmas Rose has a cluster of leaves on fleshy stems, is some 10 inches in height, and the blossoms are on fleshy stems which are not affected by low temperatures. The white - purplish blossoms are 1½ to two inches across.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

As much of the site of Washington C. H. was very swampy when the town was laid out in 1810, or 146 years ago, considerable drainage was necessary, but it was not until many years later that the first sewers were built in the city, and they were of brick produced in or near the present corporate limits of the city.

These sewers are nearly three feet in width and 2½ feet in height, with nearly flat bottom, curved sides and arched top.

Although they were constructed probably 100 years ago, or even more, the sewers have continued to function throughout the years with little attention given them.

They still form some of the most important drains in the city.

Clyde Smith, street and sewer superintendent, says that one of these three main brick sewers starts near the intersection of E. Temple St. and Delaware St., and extends southward across Market, Columbus Ave., Washington Ave., East St. and Broadway, emptying into the intercepting sewer in Paint Creek, east of Sycamore St. It formerly drained directly into Paint Creek, as did all other sewers of the city.

The brick sewer crosses Washington Ave., between the Museum property and the Edwards Hopkins home on Washington Ave.

The second brick sewer starts on Rawling St. and extends southward to Paint Creek, emptying into the interceptor sewer between North and Sycamore St.

It crosses E. Court St. near or under the Schneider property, 335 E. Court St., and E. Temple St. about one block east of the school grounds.

The third brick sewer starts east on N. Fayette St. near Temple, and extends northwest toward the intercepting sewer along Paint Creek, a block northeast of the Millikan Ave. bridge.

The top of the sewer is exposed at a point near where it passes under the B & O Railroad.

The sewer crosses N. Fayette St. near the Paint St. intersection.

DRIED APPLE PIE

One of the favorite pies up to 50 years ago was that made from dried apples, but I doubt if there is a single dried apple in Fayette County today.

Apples were peeled, cored, and cut into sections, then placed in the sun to dry. Usually mosquito netting was placed over the apples to keep the flies away.

It required two or three days for the apples to dry, and they were then placed in bags or other containers and stored until they were to be used.

Sometimes the apples were simply cooked and served, but most of the time they were used for pies, and when spices and sugar were added, were much in demand.

Not only were apples dried and used in the winter months, but peaches, pears, grapes, pumpkin, corn and other staple foods were dried in the same manner and added greatly to the menus in the winter.

In those days the only canned foods available were those canned in the homes, usually in stone jars, because glass jars for fruit canning were not available.

DECORATIONS AT PEAK

Never before has there been such a lavish display of Christmas decorations about business places and homes throughout the city and county, as during the present Christmas.

The beauty and originality in some of the displays reflects a great deal of careful planning, artistic ability, and expense.

The number of decorated Christmas trees was at an all time high, and tens of thousands of varicolored bulbs are being used in the widespread celebration of the Christmas season.

Most of these displays will continue the remainder of this week, although some already have been dismantled.

Some of the most beautiful decorations are the most simple, and the range of colors used in lighting has been unusual.

Inasmuch as the powerful 15,000-lumen standard lights brightly illuminate the uptown district, varicolored lights are not as effective as they were in the days when the illumination was less than half that of the present.

Twins Not Odd In This Family

AKRON (U)—It was no surprise when Mrs. Adabelle Edwards, 39, gave birth to twins Wednesday in General Hospital.

A girl, weighing 5 pounds 15 ounces, and a boy 5 pounds 9 ounces, were the third set of twins born to Mrs. Edwards and her husband, Lawrence, who is a tool and die maker at a rubber plant.

Edwards has a twin brother and Mrs. Edwards a twin sister.

Their own first pair, boy and girl, arrived six years ago. The second pair arrived 2½ years ago. One was a boy, who died, and the other a girl.

Congress Will Have To Be Cautious In Spending

Constant new pressures toward having our federal government spend more money are increasing almost daily.

Several government leaders recognize the danger in this and are beginning to issue statements and make comments to acquaint the public with reasons why the 85th Congress, to convene the first week in January, must be cautious and careful in its approach to the outpouring of national funds.

It is reported that almost every federal department is making a drive for more funds. There will be proposals urged to increase farm subsidies, shipping benefits, miners' benefits and a strong cry from the school bureaucracy for more aid for schools and colleges.

Despite the good case which promoters may be able to make for most of these efforts, the stern realities of the present world troubles creates a situation calling for a far more urgent order of preference.

Military requirements will have to come first in the 85th Congress. Secret weapons cost money. Guided missiles and pilotless aircraft along with the research programs which they entail are expensive. Atomic experimentation on a "crash" basis which seems to be permanent must go forward. We cannot even contemplate the possibility of any other nation outstripping us in these vital areas.

If the Nazi regime had developed the A-Bomb during World War II's early stages, we might be in a different world today.

Uncle Sam has a job of military defense which takes the first spot in our thinking now—and always. We dare not forget it.

As an example of science's advanced and costly new weapons, two noted ships of the future have arrived.

They are guided missile operatives, capable of launching devices which fly at 1,500 miles per hour on radar beams which direct them unerringly to a target in good weather or bad. We have already launched three such vessels, two cruisers and a destroyer.

Besides these, we have begun work on another vessel which will be powered by a nuclear reactor for the purpose of launching missiles. These will have a range capable of striking any spot on earth. Because of its power plant, such ships will not depend upon shore facilities.

Eventually, a fleet of surface and submarine craft equipped with these devices will be part of Uncle Sam's defensive equipment. We are making it clear that our country has no aggressive intentions, but we are certainly not going to become a sitting duck for any nation with such intentions and all this costs a lot of money.

Let There Be Real Peace

NEW YORK (AP)—Let there be real peace.

Not just where the light of Heaven shines on a diplomatic agreement, but across all the dark corridors of the human mind and the present waste pastures of space wherever anger and misunderstanding fester in the night.

This Christmas season, let peace reign among all things within man's ken and without, including the heart of man everywhere.

May none of the nameless billions of far stars, each bigger than our own sun, crash into another star in a carefree holiday movement.

May all the stars go on singing the happy music of the spheres, and Orion wave happily across the skies to the seven sisters.

May the sun have no spots and shine as never before.

May the nine planets — Mercury, Venus, Earth, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, Neptune and Pluto—spin with no turmoil. And if they've got flying saucers, keep them in the garage.

May the 13 moons of Jupiter, the 9 moons of Saturn, the 5 moons of Uranus, the 2 moons of Neptune, the 2 moons of Mars, and earth's single moon wheel gladly in their orbits, cheerful to be mere moons and free of the responsibility that goes with being a galaxy.

May no meteor quarrel with an asteroid for the heavenly right of way.

May there be peace on earth, then, as there is in heaven.

May the sky smile on the sea, and the sea lap the land with a lover's hand.

May no continent insult another continent, nor throw its weight around—not mighty Asia (17 million square miles) nor site-sized Europe (3,750,000 square miles), nor all the continents between.

By Hal Boyle

May East and West shut up for a while.

May all the hundreds of babblings different languages in all the scores of earth's varying nations lose all accents of hate.

May no religion that has a God cry out against another religion that worships God in a different way.

May no man fight another man for any cause, no flea bite a dog, no dog scratch a flea, no tree assail a fellow tree, no flower upbraid a fellow flower, no amoeba muddle the water of a neighbor amoeba, no disease flourish, and may "virus X" accept a quiet hex.

May man understand woman, and vice versa, in this magic season and parents children—including teenagers.

For this holy season, from the nervous atom to the farthest, calmest star, let there be peace for once.

Visitors to High Places

The photograph of President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Nehru patting the head of a black Angus bull exhibited a placidity on the part of the bull most unusual.

He must be a bull trained to receive visitors, particularly such as he never saw before, dressed in white jodhpurs and a modified Prince Albert coat, a costume representing curiously East and West simultaneously. The bull did not understand that East and West never shall meet or perhaps he had also been trained to be anti-Kipling, anti-imperialist, utterly integrated and to him, all humans look and smell alike.

For a bull that is a keen development and Nehru could not have known a similar one in his own country where the cow family is sacred, as is the monkey, and both destroy crops despite the efforts of Point Four.

If Tito comes here, as is being bruited about, I wonder if he will be photographed patting the same bull on the head. It might become the mark of international intimacy. Love me, love my bull sort of thing. Tito will undoubtedly want more recognition than that — perhaps a ticker-tape up Broadway ending in a luncheon at the Waldorf-Astoria. At any rate, Tito is a straight-from-the-shoulder communist with a contempt for everything capitalistic except money and of that he has already had about one billion dollars from us which is not loose change even for a Communist.

When Tito comes, it is said Zhukov will not be far behind. And from Zhukov that Black Angus bull should be hidden because it is impossible to tell when a butcher feels the itch to kill something. Zhukov is the butcher of Hungary and he might want to make a goulash out of the cattle, not because he will be hungry at Gettysburg, but because of a compulsion to kill, not as a soldier kills but as a killer kills, just to kill professionally and perfectly, in large numbers.

If Zhukov is to be honored as a guest of the United States, it will indeed be a black day and one can hardly believe that anybody would really invite this murderous Bolshevik to this country.

try. But you never can tell. Strange things are happening and strange ideas prevail and the pursuit of peace leads men in curious directions.

I ponder, just as a citizen, with what enthusiasm I should have been welcomed had I asked, in the time of Harry Truman and Dean Acheson, how it happened that they invited such queer men to be national guests while they declined to recognize the British minister for foreign affairs and never gave an invite to the British prime minister to stop over to see the Black Angus bull on his way home from his indigestion or gall bladder upset or whatever ailment sent him to Jamaica which is, after all, an island not far from Cuba.

Had I so written I should have received letters of applause telling me to give it to them. Alas, the times have changed and what was vile when Truman ruled the roost, is no longer vile, ethics and morals and the equities of life shifting from day to day even as the weather is no longer seasonable and no one knows what to wear. So if Tito and

By George Sokolsky

Zhukov are asked to come, will not Nasser want to ride the wave and shall we see them all patting the head of that black Angus bull, Nasser as well as Zhukov and Tito?

Why not get it over with and have them all together at the same time and move them from city to city for the populace to gaze upon? Such men as Billy Rose and John Ringling North would know exactly what to do with such notables, perhaps exhibiting them in the company of the bull. O Tempora! O Taurus!

And if one can live long enough, we may even see the day when Chou En-Lai arrives in Idlewild to spread his wily five-point scheme of universal co-existence. No one will ever know whether this novelty was invented by Nehru or Chou or by Mao Tse-tung or by nobody at all.

But it is spoken of as some holy pronouncement which will bring peace on earth even mid all the butchery that we witness. So be it — salama or shalom, whichever way you say it. (Copyright 1957 King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Diet and Health Rules are Outlined For Healthy Feet

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

It takes 20 years to grow a foot! During the early years of childhood, those tiny feet you mothers so love to fondle are simply 52 bony masses. They don't even appear to be united.

Gradually, as the child grows older, these masses become larger, assume their proper shapes and connect with each other. A child is 10 years old before the general foot structure is completed. And even then certain details of the great heel bone are not perfected.

It takes 20 years before a foot is fully grown.

Good Foot Habits

I think you can see why it is so important for a youngster to develop good foot habits at an early age, when the bony structures are soft and are still being shaped. Poor walking habits and ill-fitting shoes can warp and misshape the bones. The result may be weak and deformed feet.

To help guide you, the National Foot Health Council has prepared the following suggestions:

1. Replace shoes with a larger size as soon as needed, possibly every four to eight weeks.

2. Keep the heels of the shoes straight. Worn heels can cause weak ankles and foot strain.

3. Discard stockings which are crowding the toes. Pointed toe stockings cause ingrown nails and large joints.

4. Bathe feet daily in warm water and a good grade of soap, brushing the toe nails.

5. Cut the toe nails straight across, not shorter than the flesh at the end of the toes.

6. Teach children to toe straight ahead when walking. Toeing out weakens the ankles and arches and ruins a graceful stride.

Straight Line

When walking and standing, make sure the foot is placed so the inside of the big toe is on a straight line ahead. If practiced patiently, this soon will become a natural position. It throws the weight of the body on the outer border of the foot, thus saving strain on the arches.

The Nation Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—United Nations prestige leaped upward with its success in Egypt, then sagged with its ineffectiveness in Hungary. The U.N. may yet be made a fool of by Egypt's President Nasser.

The U.N. — led by the United States and Russia — saved Nasser's skin by pressuring the British, French and Israelis into ceasing their attack on Egypt and withdrawing from the Suez Canal zone.

Nasser is developing a pattern of laying down conditions under which he'll do business one at a time. When he gets what he wants, one, he imposes another.

The result: The Suez Canal is still closed to world traffic almost two months after the attack on Egypt ended. When Nasser will let work start to clear it of sunken ships no one can be sure. Nor is there any end in sight to his demands.

Some of the demands he made for letting Suez clearance work start can be justified — and have been backed by U.N. Secretary General Hammarskjöld — on the ground that Egypt is a sovereign country and must not be pressured from outside.

He won his way on these demands: The British and French would have to clear out of the canal area before he would let salvage begin; the U.N. military forces, brought in to keep peace, could stay only as long as he wished; British and French salvage ships, ready to begin work, could work only if manned by civilians.

Nasser's latest demand, as reported Christmas night, was that no clearance work could begin until all Israeli force had quit Egyptian territory. The last British and French troops had sailed away Saturday.

The Israelis may never agree to quit the Gaza Strip through which they said Egyptian attacks had been made on Israel. That would seem to shove the start of work on the canal off into the indefinite future.

Wednesday Nasser, threw another gimmick into settlement of the Suez Canal problem which he created last July with his seizure of the canal. He claims full control of the waterway, which lies entirely within Egypt.

In August 18 nations — including the United States, Britain and France — proposed to Nasser creation of an international board to supervise the canal. Nasser said no.

Another proposal was made to him in September, a vague and toothless proposal. He turned that down too.

Early in October, almost a month before the attack on Egypt began, the U.N. Security Council agreed on six principles as a basis for negotiating a Suez settlement.

On Oct. 12 the British, French and Egyptian foreign ministers accepted the principles as a basis for negotiation. By the end of October the attack had begun.

Wednesday an authoritative Egyptian source said Egypt will not negotiate with Britain and France, which attacked her, but only with the U.N. Thus Nasser throws the problem back to the U.N. to start all over. More time used up.

What can the world organization do if in the end Nasser ignores its proposals? Perhaps no more than it did when the Russians slaughtered the Hungarians.

The U.N. condemned the Russians. The Russians ignored the U.N. and are still in Hungary. The U.N. sits powerless to do anything.

Several government leaders recognize the danger in this and are beginning to issue statements and make comments to acquaint the public with reasons why the 85th Congress, to convene the first week in January, must be cautious and careful in its approach to the outpouring of national funds.

It is reported that almost every federal department is making a drive for more funds. There will be proposals urged to increase farm subsidies, shipping benefits, miners' benefits and a strong cry from the school bureaucracy for more aid for schools and colleges.

Despite the good case which promoters may be able to make for most of these efforts, the stern realities of the present world troubles creates a situation calling for a far more urgent order of preference.

Military requirements will have to come first in the 85th Congress. Secret weapons cost money. Guided missiles and pilotless aircraft along with the research programs which they entail are expensive. Atomic experimentation on a "crash" basis which seems to be permanent must go forward. We cannot even contemplate the possibility of any other nation outstripping us in these vital areas.

Let There Be Real Peace

NEW YORK (AP)—Let there be real peace.

Not just where the light of Heaven shines on a diplomatic agreement, but across all the dark corridors of the human mind and the present waste pastures of space wherever anger and misunderstanding fester in the night.

This Christmas season, let peace reign among all things within man's ken and without, including the heart of man everywhere.

May none of the nameless billions of far stars, each bigger than our own sun, crash into another star in a carefree holiday movement.

May all the stars go on singing the happy music of the spheres, and Orion wave happily across the skies to the seven sisters.

May the sun have no spots and shine as never before.

May the nine planets — Mercury, Venus, Earth, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, Neptune and Pluto—spin with no turmoil. And if they've got flying saucers, keep them in the garage.

May the 13 moons of Jupiter, the 9 moons of Saturn, the 5 moons of Uranus, the 2 moons of Neptune, the 2 moons of Mars, and earth's single moon wheel gladly in their orbits, cheerful to be mere moons and free of the responsibility that goes with being a galaxy.

May no meteor quarrel with an asteroid for the heavenly right of way.

May there be peace on earth, then, as there is in heaven.

May the sky smile on the sea, and the sea lap the land with a lover's hand.

May no continent insult another continent, nor throw its weight around—not mighty Asia (17 million square miles) nor little-sized Europe (3,750,000 square miles), nor all the continents between.

If the Nazi regime had developed the A-Bomb during World War II's early stages, we might be in a different world today.

Uncle Sam has a job of military defense which takes the first spot in our thinking now—and always. We dare not forget it.

As an example of science's advanced and costly new weapons, two noted ships of the future have arrived.

They are guided missile operatives, capable of launching devices which fly at 1,500 miles per hour on radar beams which direct them unerringly to a target in good weather or bad. We have already launched three such vessels, two cruisers and a destroyer.

Besides these, we have begun work on another vessel which will be powered by a nuclear reactor for the purpose of launching missiles. These will have a range capable of striking any spot on earth. Because of its power plant, such ships will not depend upon shore facilities.

Eventually, a fleet of surface and submarine craft equipped with these devices will be part of Uncle Sam's defensive equipment. We are making it clear that our country has no aggressive intentions, but we are certainly not going to become a sitting duck for any nation with such intentions and all this costs a lot of money.

By Hal Boyle

May East and West shut up for a while.

May all the hundreds of babblings different languages in all the scores of earth's varying nations lose all accents of hate.

May no religion that has a God cry out against another religion that worships God in a different way.

May no man fight another man for any cause, no flea bite a dog, no dog scratch a flea, no tree assail a fellow tree, no flower upbraid a fellow flower, no amoeba muddle the water of a neighbor amoeba, no disease flourish, and may "virus X" accept a quiet hex.

May man understand woman, and vice versa, in this magic season and parents children—including teenagers.

For this holy season, from the nervous atom to the farthest, calmest star, let there be peace for once.

By George Sokolsky

try. But you never can tell. Strange things are happening and strange ideas prevail and the pursuit of peace leads men in curious directions.

I ponder, just as a citizen, with what enthusiasm I should have been welcomed had I asked, in the time of Harry Truman and Dean Acheson, how it happened that they invited such queer men to be national guests while they declined to recognize the British minister for foreign affairs and never gave an invite to the British prime minister to stop over to see the Black Angus bull on his way home from his indigestion or gall bladder upset or whatever ailment sent him to Jamaica which is, after all, an island not far from Cuba.

Had I so written I should have received letters of applause telling me to give it to them. Alas, the times have changed and what was vile when Truman ruled the roost, is no longer vile, ethics and morals and the equities of life shifting from day to day even as the weather is no longer seasonable and no one knows what to wear. So if Tito and

Zhukov are asked to come, will not Nasser want to ride the wave and shall we see them all patting the head of that black Angus bull, Nasser as well as Zhukov and Tito?

Why not get it over with and have them all together at the same time and move them from city to city for the populace to gaze upon? Such men as Billy Rose and John Ringling North would know exactly what to do with such notables, perhaps exhibiting them in the company of the bull. O Tempora! O Taurus!

And if one can live long enough, we may even see the day when Chou En-Lai arrives in Idlewild to spread his wily five-point scheme of universal co-existence. No one will ever know whether this novelty was invented by Nehru or Chou or by Mao Tse-tung or by nobody at all.

But it is spoken of as some holy pronouncement which will bring peace on earth even mid all the butchery that we witness. So be it —salaam or shalom, whichever way you say it. (Copyright, 1957 King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Diet and Health Rules are Outlined For Healthy Feet

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

It takes 20 years to grow a foot! During the early years of childhood, those tiny feet you mother so love to fondle are simply 52 bony masses. They don't even appear to be united.

Gradually, as the child grows older, these masses become larger, assume their proper shapes and connect with each other. A child is 10 years old before the general foot structure is completed. And even then certain details of the great heel bone are not perfected.

It takes 20 years before a foot is fully grown.

Good Foot Habits

I think you can see why it is so important for a youngster to develop good foot habits at an early age, when the bony structures are soft and are still being shaped. Poor walking habits and ill-fitting shoes can warp and misshape the bones. The result may be weak and deformed feet.

To help guide you, the National Foot Health Council has prepared the following suggestions:

1. Replace shoes with a larger size as soon as needed, possibly every four to eight weeks.
2. Keep the heels of the shoes

straight. Worn heels can cause weak ankles and foot strain.

3. Discard stockings which are crowding the toes. Pointed toe stockings cause ingrown nails and large joints.

4. Bathe feet daily in warm water and a good grade of soap, brushing the toe nails.

5. Cut the toe nails straight across, not shorter than the flesh at the end of the toes.

6. Teach children to toe straight ahead when walking. Toeing out weakens the ankles and arches and ruins a graceful stride.

Straight Line

When walking and standing, make sure the foot is placed so the inside of the big toe is on a straight line ahead. If practiced patiently, this soon will become a natural position. It throws the weight of the body on the outer border of the foot, thus saving strain on the arches.

The Nation Today

james Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—United Nations prestige leaped upward with its success in Egypt, then sagged with its ineffectiveness in Hungary. The U.N. may yet be made a fool of by Egypt's President Nasser.

The U.N. — led by the United States and Russia — saved Nasser's skin by pressuring the British, French and Israelis into ceasing their attack on Egypt and withdrawing from the Suez Canal zone.

Nasser is developing a pattern of laying down conditions under which he'll do business one at a time. When he gets what he wants, one, he imposes another.

The result: The Suez Canal is still closed to world traffic almost two months after the attack on Egypt ended. When Nasser will let work start to clear it of sunken ships no one can be sure. Nor is there any end in sight to his demands.

Some of the demands he made for letting Suez clearance work start can be justified — and have been backed by U.N. Secretary General Hammarskjöld — on the ground that Egypt is a sovereign country and must not be pressured from outside.

He won his way on these demands: The British and French would have to clear out of the canal area before he would let salvage begin; the U.N. military forces, brought in to keep peace, could stay only as long as he wished; British and French salvage ships, ready to begin work, could work only if manned by civilians.

Nasser's latest demand, as reported Christmas night, was that no clearance work could begin until all Israeli forces had quit Egyptian territory. The last British and French troops had sailed away Saturday.

The Israelis may never agree to quit the Gaza Strip through which they said Egyptian attacks had been made on Israel. That would seem to shove the start of work on the canal off into the indefinite future.

Wednesday Nasser threw another gimmick into settlement of the Suez Canal problem which he created last July with his seizure of the canal. He claims full control of the waterway, which lies entirely within Egypt.

In August 18 nations — including the United States, Britain and France — proposed to Nasser creation of an international board to supervise the canal. Nasser said no.

Another proposal was made to him in September, a vague and toothless proposal. He turned that down too.

Early in October, almost a month before the attack on Egypt began, the U.N. Security Council agreed on six principles as a basis for negotiating a Suez settlement.

On Oct. 12 the British, French and Egyptian foreign ministers accepted the principles as a basis for negotiation. By the end of October the attack had begun.

Wednesday an authoritative Egyptian source said Egypt will not negotiate with Britain and France, which attacked her, but only with the U.N. Thus Nasser throws the problem back to the U.N. to start all over. More time used up.

What can the world organization do if in the end Nasser ignores its proposals? Perhaps no more than it did when the Russians slaughtered the Hungarians.

The U.N. condemned the Russians. The Russians ignored the U.N. and are still in Hungary. The U.N. sits powerless to do anything.

"Mary Hawthorth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am a wife a mother in middle age; and a difficulty has arisen. Our children are married and gone from home, and a lifelong friend of our younger daughter has made a pass at my husband.

This young woman—I'll call her Janet—has been as much rival as friend to our daughter. She seemed always to create rivalry, and often was envious. She always has admired my husband because (I think) he is so different from her father. My husband is kind, generous and considerate; and her father was noisy, stingy and domineering.

This recent episode has grieved me greatly. It happens at a crucial time in our lives, when neither my husband nor I are very well; and when I, especially, am at a difficult age. Janet's interest has flattered and touched my husband, but he tells me there's nothing to it, so far as he is concerned. Yet I've seen his preoccupied wistful looks.

I didn't handle the situation wisely; I was frank and open as always and just emphasized it. If I had been smart enough to beat around the bush, it might have become such a monster; but I couldn't seem to hold all that trouble inside me.

Now the holidays are approaching and our younger daughter and her husband will be visiting us; and I expect Janet will seize that opportunity to visit us, maybe repeatedly. She's unwelcome in my home at present—since we've made such an issue of her behavior; so how can I get rid of her? What should I say when she appears?

K.P.

DEAR K. P.: Granted that Janet is a tireless troublemaker in her relation with other women, still that's only one factor in your overall difficulty at present.

A sizeable element of the problem stems from your "difficult age"—by which you refer to the climacteric, I assume. During the involutional phase, it isn't uncommon for wives to become jealous, anxious and suspicious of their husbands' gallantries to other women.

No doubt it's true that Janet herself means nothing to your husband. His response is to what she symbolizes, namely: youth attracted to him. You've misconstrued the significance of his virtuous pre-occupied air, since Janet became an issue. He isn't daydreaming of her in a loveless vein, so much as he is mourning his vanished youth, and reviewing it in memory, with nostalgic pining—waited back, as it were, by (1) Janet's coquetry, and (2) the ailing atmosphere that envelops your marriage, recently.

As for how to act or what to say: 1. Isn't it natural to warn your daughter that Janet isn't welcome and you don't want her encouraged to hang around, because she's been making passes at dad and thus has caused trouble that you deplore? 2. If Janet shows up, be curt and stay to the fore. Let her feel the chill of your attitude, as reminder of her mistake. Do and say what your mood suggests; don't be a quaking hypocrite.

$41,110 in E, H Bonds Sold Here During November

Nationwide, the holdings of Series E and H Savings Bonds including accrued interest, continued to mount during November, reaching a new record high of $41.3 billion. R. H. Olinger, chairman of the Fayette County Savings Bonds Committee, reported that Ohio sales of Series E and H bonds for November reached 254 million dollars for a decrease of 5½ million dollars over the same month in 1955.

Sale of E and H bonds in Fayette amounted to $41,110. The county chairman further pointed out that three counties, Vinton, Ottawa and Harrison, already have achieved their sales quotas for the year.

Mental Health of Modern Youth Studied by Experts

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Troubled family life, repeated changes in schools and isolation from well-organized community groups were cited today as significant factors adversely affecting the mental health of modern youth.

The findings were made by an Ohio State University research team in a report to the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science in New York City.

The report, authored by Dr. A. R. Mangus, of the university's Institute of Child Development and Family Life, was based on a re-test of 384 public school youngsters who were first contacted in a 1946 mental health study. The subjects were then about nine years old and in the third grade.

The research team said objectives of the follow-up study, conducted in 1955, were to determine rates and direction of personality change in the youths during the transition from childhood to adolescence.

The students tested lived in the same Ohio county, with a population of 60,000 almost equally divided between rural and urban residents.

The study showed that there was little or no change in personality or mental health for 50 per cent of the subjects. Another 20 per cent showed "moderate improvement in test scores but insufficient to give confidence in statistical significance."

A little over 14 per cent, the researchers reported, changed "significantly upward" while 8.6

per cent "moved downward to significantly lower levels of mental health."

The Ohio State sociologists said these changes in mental health levels apparently had no relation to age, sex or IQ, although the '46 study showed that the average level of personality adjustment was higher for girls than for boys.

Among the conclusions reached by the researchers, on the basis of their findings, were:

Students who make repeated changes in schools are subject to greater risks of adverse personality change, while the "non-mobile" have increased chances of changing in the direction of mental health.

A break in the family of an adolescent or pre-adolescent poses a major threat to his personality organization.

Other findings tended to confirm those of Dr. Mangus' earlier study, which pointed up the superiority of rural children to city youngsters in the health of their personalities.

The researchers reported that the chances of favorable personality change "appear to be significantly greater and the risks of unfavorable change significantly less" for:

(1) Students living in rural homes; than for those in a city; (2) students whose fathers had jobs of high occupational prestige, than those whose father were in low-status jobs; (3) students whose families "were upwardly mobile in the social and occupational class structure, than for those whose families remained stable or were downwardly mobile."

The research was financed by the Ohio Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction and by the university's development fund.

Ham, Chickens Lamb Featured In Food Marts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ham, a top favorite for New Year's Day in recent years, will be prominently displayed, at attractive prices, in many stores this weekend.

Leg of lamb is scheduled for feature treatment, too. So are steak, chickens, corn beef and, in some places, geese and duck. Chicken prices are down 2 to 10 cents and pork up 6 to 12 cents in scattered sections. Some places had eggs down 2 or 3 cents.

Prices of most vegetables were reported about the same as last week in most areas. This means that potatoes, onions and cabbage again will be the best buys.

Department of Agriculture experts look for supplies of potatoes to be considerably larger this winter and into spring, because the important fall crop tops the previous year by almost 13 per cent.

Grapefruit, oranges and tangerines are the best buys at most fruit countries.

Rail Strike Could Tie Up Canada Lines

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen have voted a strike which, if carried out on schedule next Wednesday, would tie up about one-half of Canada's rail transportation.

The vote to strike the Canadian

The Record-Herald Thursday, Dec. 27, 1956 5
Washington C. H., Ohio

Pacific Railway was announced by H. E. Gilbert, brotherhood president here. Gilbert said the brotherhood's committee on the CPR took the strike vote Wednesday following a seven-day waiting period required by Canadian labor law after a board of conciliation reported on the dispute.

Gilbert said company efforts to assign functions of firemen to other members of diesel train crews was the primary issue. He said the company demands amount to an "attempt at destruction of a craft by division of its labor among other workers (which) has no relation to technology and is purely a headstrong attempt to cut costs."

One salvaged diesel engine from the German battleship Tirpitz, which was sunk by British bombers in a Norwegian fjord in 1944, now supplies power for the town of Honningsvåg, Norway.

Bus Terminal Gunman Still Unidentified

CLEVELAND (AP)—An 18-year-old girl and a 52-year-old bus driver had special reasons to be happy this Christmas season—but nobody knows about the man who shot them dead on a greyhound bus at the Cleveland terminal early Wednesday.

His body is still at the county morgue, unidentified.

Miss Georgann Kartzke, on her way from Virginia to a second Christmas celebration in Chicago, had complained that the man was bothering her on the bus.

Leo T. Almerico, the driver who had become a grandfather Christmas day, told him to stop it or get off.

"I'll get off," he replied, pulled out an automatic pistol and shot the driver and the girl, fatally wounding both. Then he ran into the waiting room, where he engaged in a gun duel with Patrolman Michael J. Barrett, who happened to be in the terminal.

Five persons in the waiting room were wounded, including 83-year-old Richard Reisberg of Pittsburgh, who is still at Charity Hospital in good condition.

Barrett pursued the gunman out of the terminal, and was joined in the chase by Detective Sgt. Michael Sirkot. They cornered the killer in a churchyard across blocks away. He fired one more wild shot at the officers and then his gun jammed. The officers opened fire and the gunman fell dead with five bullets in his body.

Cowboy Promises No to Rope Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Inaugural officials say that the California cowboy who threw a rope over President Eisenhower during the 1953 parade has "promised" not to repeat the performance if he is allowed to take part in next month's festivities.

Parade Chairman Edward Carr said Monty Montana of Northridge, Calif., had telephoned and "promised not to lasso the President if we let him ride again."

Carr said the parade committee has taken Montana's request under study. The Inaugural Parade will be held Jan. 21.

I didn't handle the situation wisely; I was frank and open as always and just emphasized it. If I had been smart enough to beat around the bush, it mightn't have become such a monster; but I couldn't seem to hold all that trouble inside me.

Now the holidays are approaching and our younger daughter and her husband will be visiting us; and I expect Janet will seize that opportunity to visit us, maybe repeatedly. She's unwelcome in my home at present—since we've made such an issue of her behavior; so how can I get rid of her? What should I say when she appears?

K.P.
DEAR K. P.: Granted that Janet is a tireless troublemaker in her relation with other women, still that's only one factor in your overall difficulty at present.

A sizeable element of the problem stems from your "difficult age"—by which you refer to the climacteric, I assume. During the involuntarily phase, it isn't uncommon for wives to become jealous, anxious and suspicious of their husbands' gallantries to other women.

No doubt it's true that Janet herself means nothing to your husband. His response is to what she symbolizes, namely: youth attracted to him. You've misconstrued the significance of his wistful preoccupied air, since Janet became an issue. He isn't daydreaming of her in a loveless vein, so much as he is mourning his vanished youth, and reviewing it in memory, with nostalgic pining—wistful back, as it were, by (1) Janet's coquetry, and (2) the ailing atmosphere that envelops your marriage, recently.

As for how to act or what to say: 1. Isn't it natural to warn your daughter that Janet isn't welcome and you don't want her encouraged to hang around, because she's been making passes at dad and thus has caused trouble that you deplore? 2. If Janet shows up, be curt and stay to the fore. Let her feel the chill of your attitude, as reminder of her mistake. Do and say what your mood suggests; don't be a quaking hypocrite.

Bus Terminal Gunman Still Unidentified

CLEVELAND (AP)—An 18-year-old girl and a 52-year-old bus driver had special reasons to be happy this Christmas season—but nobody knows about the man who shot them dead on a greyhound bus at the Cleveland terminal early Wednesday.

His body is still at the county morgue, unidentified.

Miss Georgann Kartzke, on her way from Virginia to a second Christmas celebration in Chicago, had complained that the man was bothering her on the bus.

Leo T. Almerico, the driver who had become a grandfather Christmas day, told him to stop it or get off.

"I'll get off," he replied, pulled out an automatic pistol and shot the driver and the girl, fatally wounding both. Then he ran into the waiting room, where he engaged in a gun duel with Patrolman Michael J. Barrett, who happened to be in the terminal.

Five persons in the waiting room were wounded, including 83-year-old Richard Reiberg of Pittsburgh, who is still at Charity Hospital in good condition.

Barrett pursued the gunman out of the terminal, and was joined in the chase by Detective Sgt. Michael Sirkot. They cornered the killer in a churchyard so real blocks away. He fired one more wild shot at the officers and then his gun jammed. The officers opened fire and the gunman fell dead with five bullets in his body.

Cowboy Promises No to Rope Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Inaugural officials say that the California cowboy who threw a rope over President Eisenhower during the 1953 parade has "promised" not to repeat the performance if he is allowed to take part in next month's festivities.

Parade Chairman Edward Carr said Monty Montana of Northridge, Calif., had telephoned and "promised not to lasso the President if we let him ride again."

Carr said the parade committee has taken Montana's request under study. The Inaugural Parade will be held Jan. 21.

Mental Health of Modern Youth Studied by Experts

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Troubled family life, repeated changes in schools and isolation from well-organized community groups were cited today as significant factors adversely affecting the mental health of modern youth.

The findings were made by an Ohio State University research team in a report to the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science in New York City.

The report, authored by Dr. A. R. Mangus, of the university's Institute of Child Development and Family Life, was based on a re-test of 384 public school youngsters who were first contacted in a 1946 mental health study. The subjects were then about nine years old and in the third grade.

The research team said objectives of the follow-up study, conducted in 1955, were to determine rates and direction of personality change in the youths during the transition from childhood to adolescence.

The students tested lived in the same Ohio county, with a population of 60,000 almost equally divided between rural and urban residents.

The study showed that there was little or no change in personality or mental health for 50 per cent of the subjects. Another 20 per cent showed "moderate improvement in test scores but insufficient to give confidence in statistical significance."

A little over 14 per cent, the researchers reported, changed "significantly upward" while 8.6

per cent "moved downward to significantly lower levels of mental health."

The Ohio State sociologists said these changes in mental health levels apparently had no relation to age, sex or IQ, although the 1946 study showed that the average level of personality adjustment was higher for girls than for boys.

Among the conclusions reached by the researchers, on the basis of their finds, were:

Students who make repeated changes in schools are subject to greater risks of adverse personality change, while the "non-mobile" have increased chances of changing in the direction of mental health.

A break in the family of an adolescent or pre-adolescent poses a major threat to his personality organization.

Other findings tended to confirm those of Dr. Mangus' earlier study, which pointed up the superiority of rural children to city youngsters in the health of their personalities.

The researchers reported that the chances of favorable personality change "appear to be significantly greater and the risks of unfavorable change significantly less" for:

(1) Students living in rural homes; than for those in a city; (2) students whose fathers had jobs of high occupational prestige, than those whose fathers were in low-status jobs; (3) students whose families "were upwardly mobile in the social and occupational class structure, than for those whose families remained stable or were downwardly mobile."

The research was financed by the Ohio Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction and by the university's development fund.

Ham, Chickens Lamb Featured In Food Marts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ham, a top favorite for New Year's Day in recent years, will be prominently displayed, at attractive prices, in many stores this weekend.

Leg of lamb is scheduled for feature treatment, too. So are steak, chickens, corn beef and, in some places, geese and duck. Chicken prices are down 2 to 10 cents and pork up 6 to 12 cents in scattered sections. Some places had eggs down 2 or 3 cents.

Prices of most vegetables were reported about the same as last week in most areas. This means that potatoes, onions and cabbage again will be the best buys.

Department of Agriculture experts look for supplies of potatoes to be considerably larger this winter and into spring, because the important fall crop tops the previous year by almost 13 per cent.

Grapefruit, oranges and tangerines are the best buys at most fruit countries

Rail Strike Could Tie Up Canada Lines

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen have voted a strike which, if carried out on schedule next Wednesday, would tie up about one-half of Canada's rail transportation.

The vote to strike the Canadian Pacific Railway was announced by H. E. Gilbert, brotherhood president here. Gilbert said the brotherhood's committee on the CPR took the strike vote Wednesday following a seven-day waiting period required by Canadian labor law after a board of conciliation reported on the dispute.

Gilbert said company efforts to assign functions of firemen to other members of diesel train crews was the primary issue. He said the company demands amount to an "attempt at destruction of a craft by division of its labor among other workers (which) has no relation to technology and is purely a headstrong attempt to cut costs."

One salvaged diesel engine from the German battleship Tirpitz, which was sunk by British bombers in a Norwegian fjord in 1944, now supplies power for the town of Honningsvåg, Norway.

Two Hostesses Entertain With Pretty Shower

Miss Susan Barchet and Mrs. Donald Dunn combined hospitalities when they entertained at the Barchet home with a delightful and unique "Round the Clock" shower and tea complimenting Miss Dinah Davis, bride-elect of Mr. Ellis Ervin Miller.

The guests gathered around a blazing open fire, the mantle piece being decorated with evergreens and lighted red candles, for the opening of the attractive gifts which were placed beneath a lighted Christmas tree. Miss Davis received the gifts with the characteristic graciousness and warmth which has always endeared her to her many friends.

The tea table, covered with a beautiful Madeira cloth and centered with a white Italian pottery bowl of white shag mums, Salal and Huckleberry leaves and silver balls and flanked by white candles, presented a picture of bridal loveliness. Miss Kathleen Davis, aunt of the honor guest, presided at the tea urn.

Assisting in the afternoon's hospitalities were Mrs. Ira Barchet and Mrs. George Campbell.

Invited guests were: Mrs. Grove Davis, Mrs. Ervin Miller, Mrs. Walter Ellis, Mrs. J. A. Persinger, Mrs. Forrest Ellis, Mrs. Wesley Cox, Mrs. Ray Deere, Mrs. Russell Campbell, Mrs. William Case, Mrs. Dean Drake, Mrs. Jack Cupp, and the Misses Beverly Baer, Shirley Hickman, Ann Washburn, Jo and Jane Davis, Julia and Jeanne Persinger, Joyce Pettit, Esther Marting, Carolina Rice, Greenfield, Mrs. David Chapman, Freeman, Elizabeth Otis, Evanston, Illinois, and Mrs. Gordon Eldridge and Miss Dianne Elliott of Columbus.

Fine dry bread crumbs often make fine casserole toppings; but first mix a cup of the crumbs with a quarter cup of melted butter or margarine.

Engagement Is Announced; July Wedding Being Planned

MISS HAZEL ENGLE

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur D. Engle of Bloomington announce the engagement of their daughter, Hazel, to Mr. Harold Charles Crane, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Crane of Somerville, New Jersey.

Wedding of December 23 Is Announced

Jeffersonville Methodist Church was the setting for the wedding of Mrs. Martha K. Crum, daughter of late Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Justice of Ironton, to Mr. William C. Allen of Jeffersonville, Route 1, son of Mrs. Lela Allen, Route 1, Jeffersonville, and the late Mr. Fred Allen.

Rev. C. R. Williamson performed the double ring ceremony Sunday, December 23rd at one-thirty in the afternoon, and attendants for the couple were Mrs. Leland Lynd, of Ironton, sister of the bride and Mr. Fred Allen of this city, brother of the groom.

Only immediate members of the family were in attendance.

The new Mrs. Allen attended Ironton High School and Fredericks Beauty Academy and now operates a beauty salon in South Solon.

Mr. Allen attended Jeffersonville High School, Ohio State University and is engaged in farming at the present time.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will be at home to their friends on Cleveland Street, South Solon.

Open House Is Held at Williams Home

One of the nicest events of the season took place recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Williams on the Leesburg Road, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Jennings were assistant host and hostess.

For the "open house" Christmas decorations were found throughout, including poinsettias, a lovely Christmas tree and homemade mobiles of green, red and gold foil hung above the fireplace.

A Christmas poinsettia cloth was used on the dining room table from which the punch and various seasonal delicacies were served and informal visiting was greatly enjoyed throughout the lovely event.

A cluster of seedless grapes, a fresh pear halve or some wedges of red-skinned apple help to make a luncheon sandwich look and taste good. The fruit will be delicious with a filling of ham, chicken or cheese.

Miss Williams Announces Her Engagement

Mrs. Francis Snider of the Jamestown Road is announcing the engagement of her daughter Miss Martha Alice Williams, to Airman

MISS MARTHA A. WILLIAMS
3rd Class Wayne William Woods, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Woods of 224 1/2 East Market Street, this city.

Miss Williams will be a member of the 1957 graduating class of Jeffersonville High School.

Airman Woods attended Washington High School and was employed at radio station WCHO in this city, as a disk jockey.

Although Airman Woods is on furlough at the present time, when he returns he will be stationed in French Morocco, and the wedding date is dependent on his release from overseas duty.

Guests included Rev. Harold B. Twining, pastor, Sunday School Superintendent Mr. Robert Lambert, Mrs. Lambert and daughter Marty; adult counselor Mr. Kenneth Chaney and Mrs. Chaney.

Miss Pat Hogan, social chairman, with her assistant, Mr. Bruce McLean, directed the decorations and very capably acted as host and hostess for the evening.

Entertainment for the evening was under the direction of Miss Judy Cahall, president, and the vice president, Mr. Norman Chaney. Mrs. Elizabeth Hurt, assisted Mrs. Harold B. Twining, the teacher, prepare the hot dishes for the dinner.

A number 303 can (2 cups) of red kidney beans will be the right amount for a pound of ground beef when you are making chili con carne.

Game Dinner Is Enjoyed by Young People

The Young People's Class of the First Baptist Church held their Christmas party and game dinner Saturday evening at the church home which was beautifully decorated and permeated with the spirit and good fellowship in keeping with the holiday season.

The game dinner of pheasant, rabbit, and other tempting dishes was greatly enjoyed by the young people who were gaily attired in holiday colors making a festive scene around the three tables. These were decorated to carry out Christmas themes; one, "The Lighting of Candles" to guide the Messiah's path into the world; another "The Blessed and Holy Nativity"; and the third, "The Jolly Old Fellow" represented by Santa in a white sleigh packed with gifts and goodies and drawn by white reindeer.

Carol singing, individual tape recordings and pleasant reminiscences by reunited friends combined to round out a pleasant evening.

Guests included Rev. Harold B. Twining, pastor, Sunday School Superintendent Mr. Robert Lambert, Mrs. Lambert and daughter Marty; adult counselor Mr. Kenneth Chaney and Mrs. Chaney.

Miss Pat Hogan, social chairman, with her assistant, Mr. Bruce McLean, directed the decorations and very capably acted as host and hostess for the evening.

Capt. and Mrs. Stan R. Sheridan, sons Stan and Jeffrey, of Ft. Knox, Kentucky, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Sheridan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Perrill. Miss Jean Perrill, another daughter, who resides in Cleveland, is also spending the remainder of the week at the home of her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baker and son Russell, were Christmas Day dinner guests of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ples Powers in Cincinnati. Other guests were Capt. and Mrs. Albert Baker and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baker and daughters, and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Shepherd.

Mrs. George Worrell has returned after visiting during the Christmas Holidays with her sister, Mrs. Ralph Browne and Mr. Brown in Cincinnati.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Parrett entertained as Christmas Day guests their daughter, Mrs. Alice P. Bush, son Jerry, and Attorney Charles W. Frayne, all of Springfield. Mr. Jerry Bush has just returned from a routine training trip to Portugal aboard the U. S. carrier "Forrestal" and will be stationed temporarily at Jacksonville, Florida, at the close of his 18-day vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. James Coan, of Fort Wayne, Indiana, have returned home after spending over Christmas with Mrs. Coan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. West.

Mrs. Beryle Cavinee entertained as dinner guests on Monday, Mr. Glenn Cavinee of Baltimore, Maryland, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Claes and children David, Dale and Carolyn of Shelby.

Mr. and Mrs. Harve Hamman of this city, and their daughter, Mrs. T. D. Southwick and Mr. Southwick of Indianapolis, were Christmas Day dinner guests at the home of Mr. Southwick's mother, Mrs. J. R. Southwick in Columbus.

Miss Coil Hostess At Buffet Supper

Miss Jeanie Coil proved a charming hostess recently when she entertained at a buffet supper at her home in honor of the Christmas season.

For the serving of the delicious meal the guests were seated at card tables covered with Christmas table cloths and napkins. In the center of each table was a candle in a Christmas holder, surrounded by sprigs of green and holly.

At the conclusion of the meal everyone enjoyed a gift exchange, followed by watching TV and playing cards.

Those included as guests were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Cannon, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Knecht, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Creamer, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Cornwell and Mr. Harold Anderson of Jeffersonville.

EVERYTHING IN THE BACK is the new look for this afternoon dress in blue and black textured wool, from the collection of Pattullo-Jo Copeland. Double back skirt panels fasten at the waist by a center bow. Shoulder flanges narrow the waist at back and stem from a squared yoke front.

Out Of Town Guest Over Christmas Day

Miss Agnes Kerrigan was the Christmas guest of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Anderson in Columbus and attended the Midnight Mass in Saint Joseph's Cathedral.

Bishop Michael J. Ready was the celebrant of the Pontifical High Mass, assisted by Monsignor Harry S. Connolly, pastor of the Cathedral, and brother of Father Richard J. Connolly of this city.

The Andersons motored Miss Kerrigan home from Columbus and remained for a longer visit.

Wedding of December 23 Is Announced

Jeffersonville Methodist Church was the setting for the wedding of Mrs. Martha K. Crum, daughter of late Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Justice of Ironton, to Mr. William C. Allen of Jeffersonville, Route 1, son of Mrs. Lela Allen, Route 1, Jeffersonville, and the late Mr. Fred Allen.

Rev. C. R. Williamson performed the double ring ceremony Sunday, December 23rd at one-thirty in the afternoon, and attendants for the couple were Mrs. Leland Lynd, of Ironton, sister of the bride and Mr. Fred Allen of this city, brother of the groom.

Only immediate members of the family were in attendance.

The new Mrs. Allen attended Ironton High School and Frederick Beauty Academy and now operates a beauty salon in South Solon.

Mr. Allen attended Jeffersonville High School, Ohio State University and is engaged in farming at the present time.

Open House Is Held at Williams Home

One of the nicest events of the season took place recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Williams on the Leesburg Road, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Jennings were assistant host and hostess.

For the "open house" Christmas decorations were found throughout, including poinsettias, a lovely Christmas tree and homemade mobiles of green, red and gold foil hung above the fireplace.

A Christmas poinsettia cloth was used on the dining room table from which the punch and various seasonable delicacies were served and informal visiting was greatly enjoyed throughout the lovely event.

A cluster of seedless grapes, a fresh pear halve or some wedges of red-skinned apple help to make a luncheon sandwich look and taste good. The fruit will be delicious with a filling of ham, chicken or cheese.

Miss Williams Announces Her Engagement

Mrs. Francis Snider of the Jamestown Road is announcing the engagement of her daughter Miss Martha Alice Williams, to Airman

MISS MARTHA A. WILLIAMS

3rd Class Wayne William Woods, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Woods of 224½ East Market Street, this city.

Miss Williams will be a member of the 1957 graduating class of Jeffersonville High School.

Airman Woods attended Washington High School and was employed at radio station WCHO in this city, as a disk jockey.

Although Airman Woods is on furlough at the present time, when he returns he will be stationed in French Morocco, and the wedding date is dependent on his release from overseas duty.

Game Dinner Is Enjoyed by Young People

The Young People's Class of the First Baptist Church held their Christmas party and game dinner Saturday evening at the church home which was beautifully decorated and permeated with the spirit and good fellowship in keeping with the holiday season.

The game dinner of pheasant, rabbit, and other tempting dishes was greatly enjoyed by the young people who were gallantly attired in holiday colors making a festive scene around the three tables. These were decorated to carry out Christmas themes; one, "The Lighting of Candles" to guide the Messiah's path into the world; another "The Blessed and Holy Nativity", and the third, "The Jolly Old Fellow" represented by Santa in a white sleigh packed with gifts and goodies and drawn by white reindeer.

Carol singing, individual tape recordings and pleasant reminiscences by reunited friends combined to round out a pleasant evening.

Guests included Rev. Harold B. Twining, pastor, Sunday School Superintendent Mr. Robert Lambert, Mrs. Lambert and daughter Marty; adult counselor Mr. Kenneth Chaney and Mrs. Chaney.

Miss Pat Hogan, social chairman, with her assistant, Mr. Bruce McLean, directed the decorations and very capably acted as host and hostess for the evening.

Entertainment for the evening was under the direction of Miss Judy Cahall, president, and the vice president, Mr. Norman Chaney. Mrs. Elizabeth Hurt, assisted Mrs. Harold B. Twining, the teacher, prepared the hot dishes for the dinner.

A number 303 can (2 cups) of red kidney beans will be the right amount for a pound of ground beef when you are making chili con carne.

Toledo Instructors Trying To Change Army's Thinking

By BILL NEVILL
TOLEDO, Ohio (P)—W. taxpayers probably owe a debt of gratitude to a handful of University of Toledo instructors. They're trying to make the Army think like businessmen when it spends our money.

In fast-paced courses averaging only two weeks, the instructors are drilling the methods of economy-minded big business into an organization traditionally accustomed to letting someone else worry about the costs.

"To explain it roughly, the accent in Army bookkeeping has been shifted to dollar signs and values from the old philosophy of gotta-have-it; don't-care-how-you-get-it," explained Dr. Loring M. Thompson, associate professor of industrial engineering and one of the 12 instructors in the program.

Thompson said the Army began turning to "business methods" of bookkeeping following recommendations by the Hoover Commission in 1949 and under Title IV of the Security Act of that same year. "At that time," he said, "you could have compared the Army with a huge department store that was still trying to keep records like a country store. It had simply outgrown its methods."

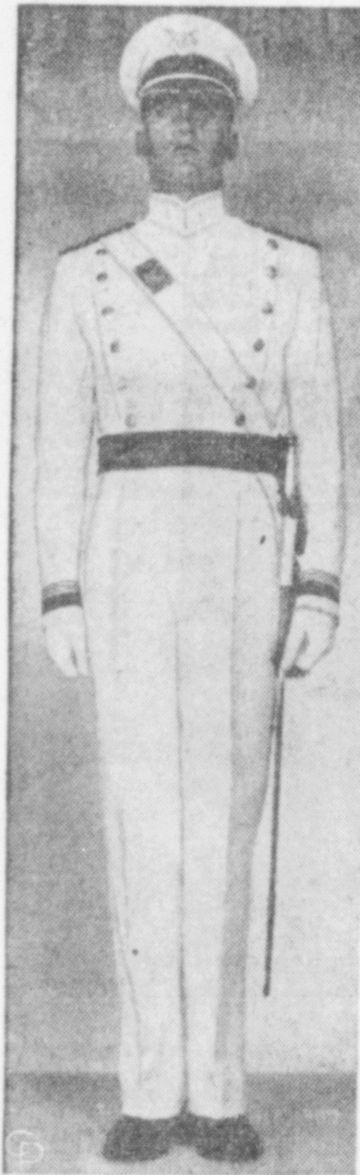

"It used to be," he continued, "that Army equipment was a matter of guns, mules and shovels. Record-keeping was comparatively simple, even if it was in triplicate."

"But look at the Army today: weapons. Guided missiles, is it any wonder they're having any book-keeping trouble?"

To help solve the problem, the Army's Ordnance Corps had the university set up a training program in 1952.

Under the title "Ordnance Financial Management Training Program," the university through the fiscal year ended last July had given courses to more than 3,000 military and civilian employees of the Ordnance Corps, the supply and equipment arm of the Army. The corps is spending between $150,000 and $200,000 to send another 2,000 through the courses this fiscal year.

Each year the Ordnance Corps makes from 2 to 3 billion dollars worth of purchases and currently has inventories of about 11 billion dollars.

HALL'S DRUG STORE

That gives you an idea of the size of the undertaking which faced the college instructors.

"To begin with," said Thompson, "we had to start with explanations of such simple things as debits and credits. The personnel was used to the old 'free issue' policy and had no idea of how to go about making books balance."

"To exaggerate a bit," he added, "the Army also wanted to teach its people not to buy a whole new engine when a set of spark plugs would do."

He said the Army now has become a "consumer" in the strict business sense of the word.

"It has to budget funds for spare parts. When any one unit gets something from another unit, it's handled as a 'purchase' and a 'sale'. Each unit must be able to state the dollar value of its inventories."

Some of the course titles are enough to make any good soldier run for his abacus. They include: Appropriation accounting, financial inventory, accounting, contract pricing-facilities layaway, management financial reports, costs analysis and contract financing.

The contracts courses show something of the nature of the involved transactions the Army gets into these days.

Dr. Thompson said many of the purchases made by the modern Army are so technical and involve so much money that it is impossible to get bids on an open basis.

"No one would risk a bid on a set price," he said. "So the contractors have to be negotiated with the contractor demanding various provisions to protect himself against loss. Naturally, the Army wants to keep these loopholes to a minimum."

"You can see that the Army representatives in these negotiations with businessmen need plenty of know-how. That's what we try to give them."

Like anything connected with the Army, the courses go strictly by the book; according to regulations.

But the university and the Ordnance Corps have a way to deal with this limitation.

When any new course is established, the university sends out instructors to study the particular operation concerned. The instructors draw up a manual and make a test run of the course with an "expert" sitting in as an observer.

Any matters of policy that seem to conflict with good business procedure are sent to a higher Army level for study.

The classes themselves are operated on an open-forum basis. Questions from the students often bring up other policy problems and these, too, are "sent upstairs" for what is hoped will be a quick solution.

Do the students like the project? "They actually want to take the courses," Thompson said, "and while they're in class, they keep us hopping to supply the answers. What more could any teacher ask?"

4 Happy New Years, Is Wish

SALT LAKE CITY (P)—When lame duck Gov. J. Bracken Lee met his successor, Gov. Elect George D. Clyde, in a Capitol hallway, a newsman heard this salutation from Lee:

"Four happy new years!" Clyde takes off Jan. 7, will serve a four-year term.

New Formal Attire Campaign Aimed This Year at Males

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor
Breathes there a woman who hasn't dressed to the teeth on New Year's Eve only to have the man in her life show up in an old tweed suit?

This all too frequent tragedy should constitute grounds for divorce but most women figure even a man who looks like a refugee from a rummage sale is better than no man at all. So they swallow their chagrin, keep a stiff upper lip and go out with the brutes anyway.

This year, however, things may be different. The men's formal wear industry is going to bat in behalf of America's suffering womanhood, and is making sure Pop won't forget that only a "square" wears a business suit to a formal dance.

The boys are being reminded in various ways. For instance, starting today, any man who leaves a call to be awakened in any one of some 35 leading hotels throughout the country may be startled to be roused from slumber by a cheery voice saying:

"Good morning! It's 7:30. Remember, go formal New Year's Eve!"

Any man who stops in a flower shop anywhere in the country will be greeted by the message, "Go formal New Year's Eve and buy her a corsage."

For the next week the message will be dinned into his ears by TV commentators, department store salesmen and—of course—the little woman.

As a matter of fact, the men have been waking up to the fact that clothes make the man for some time now, as witness the zooming sales of formal male attire.

Zoo Leaders Plan Columbus Look-See

COLUMBUS, Ohio (P)—Prominent zoological leaders from over the nation come to Columbus Friday to get a first-hand glimpse at the only baby gorilla born in captivity.

Floyd C. Redick, the city's service director, said six zoological leaders will be here to see the infant daughter of Christina and the Baron, the Columbus Zoo's gorillas.

The baby gorilla, in her fifth day of life, is being kept in an incubator. Redick said Dr. Leonard Goss and Lee Crandle of the Bronx Zoo, Julian Frazier of the Oklahoma City Zoo, Phil Skeldon of the Toledo Zoo, Fletcher Reynolds of the Cleveland Zoo and Robert Bean of the Chicago Zoo will be here.

He wasn't satisfied with the barber's efforts so when he got home he took the scissors and finished the job.

New York led all states in total number of newspaper firms with 561. Just behind was California, 551. Texas was third with 516 and Illinois fourth with 500.

There were 2,045 magazine publishing establishments in 1954, the study showed. In terms of dollar value of output, newspapers were twice as big an industry as magazines.

The output of periodical publishers was valued at $1,421,720,000 in 1954. They employed 62,428 workers—slightly fewer than in 1947 although the receipts of periodicals increased about 40 per cent in that period.

New York was by far the biggest magazine publishing state.

Census Bureau Gives Data On U. S. Publishing Industry

WASHINGTON (P)—The Census Bureau reported today there were 8,646 big and little newspaper publishing firms in the United States in 1954, employing 281,799 men and women on payrolls totaling $1,262,793,000.

The report, an advance study giving excerpts from the 1954 census of manufactures, rated the value of the industry's output $3,091,027,000.

Growth of the industry was indicated by a 22 per cent rise in the number of employees since 1947, when the last previous newspaper census was taken. Few other comparisons were available in the preliminary study.

Receipts of newspapers included $840,867,000 from subscriptions and sales and $2,058,978,000 from advertising. The 1947 figures were $599,925,000 and $1,192,413,000 from advertising.

This disclosed that advertising revenue in 1954 accounted for a somewhat higher proportion of total receipts—about 71 per cent, as against 67 per cent in the 1947 survey.

In the miscellaneous publishing category were 946 firms with 18,378 workers. Their combined output was valued at $231,242,000.

Inauguration Rites Set for Ohio Governor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (P)—A 19-gun salute, a band concert and a reception in the statehouse rotunda will be part of the inaugural ceremonies Jan. 14 when C. William O'Neill is sworn in as Ohio's next governor.

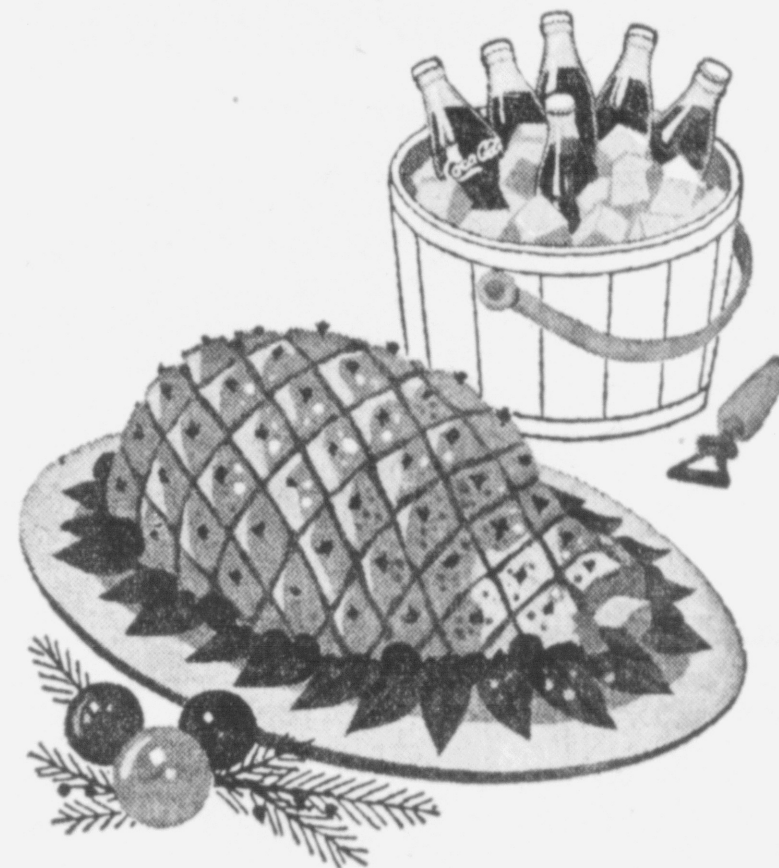

Plans for the ceremonies were made Wednesday by a civic committee headed by John Galbreath, Columbus realtor.

The program will begin with a concert by visiting bands at 10 a.m. At 11:30, Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, State Auditor Roger W. Tracey, State Auditor James A. Rhodes and Atty. General William Saxbe, all Republicans, will be sworn into office. Chief Justice Carl V. Weyandt of the Ohio Supreme Court will swear in O'Neill at noon.

The 19-gun salute will follow immediately. The statehouse reception will begin at 2:30 p.m. and the inaugural ball will be held at 8:30 p.m. in the Neil House here.

FOOD ideas FOR HOLIDAY HOSPITALITY

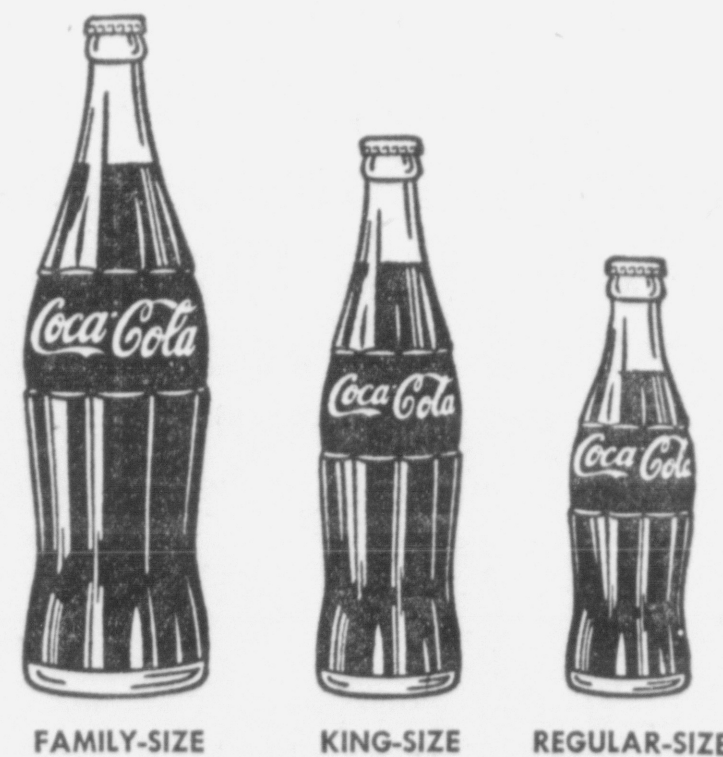

Set a Buffet-Beautiful

Cinnamon-Candy Ham—Baked ham is king of the buffet table wearing a coat of scarlet candy-glaze. Peppery cinnamon candies make the basting—melted down in pineapple juice. Feature this on your buffet table right next to a smacking big bucket of ice-cold Coke. It's the party refreshment that's really fun with food!

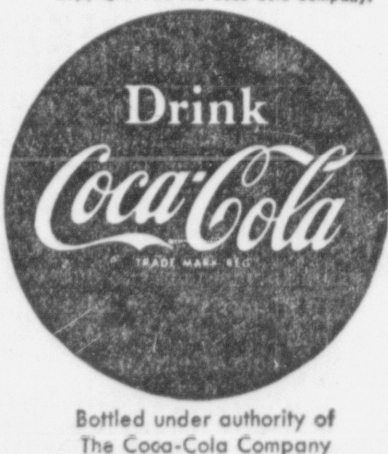

Flaming and Festive—Make way for your buffet's crowning glory—dessert that flickers with flame! Choose a favorite cake, then top with peach halves and sugar-lumps soaked in lemon extract. What a sight when you light it! Gala as the great taste of Coca-Cola—and just as traditional at a party. Coke really sparkles wherever good friends get together!

And Here's the Happiest Idea for Holiday Entertaining—Now you'll find there are 3 party-perfect ways to bring home the Coke. Yes—you can enjoy the famous quality of Coca-Cola in Regular-Size, King-Size, Family-Size too!

Toledo Instructors Trying To Change Army's Thinking

By BILL NEYKIRK
TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—We taxpayers probably owe a debt of gratitude to a handful of University of Toledo instructors. They're trying to make the Army think like businessmen when it spends our money.

In fast-paced courses averaging only two weeks, the instructors are drilling the methods of economy-minded big business into an organization traditionally accustomed to letting someone else worry about the costs.

"To explain it roughly, the accent in Army bookkeeping has been shifted to dollar signs and values from the old philosophy of gotta-have-it; don't-care-how-you-get-it," explained Dr. Loring M. Thompson, associate professor of industrial engineering and one of the 12 instructors in the program.

Thompson said the Army began turning to "business methods" of bookkeeping following recommendations by the Hoover Commission in 1949 and under Title IV of the Security Act of that same year.

"At that time," he said, "you could have compared the Army with a huge department store that was still trying to keep records like a country store. It had simply outgrown its methods."

"It used to be," he continued, "that Army equipment was a matter of guns, mules and shovels. Record-keeping was comparatively simple, even if it was in triplicate."

"But look at the Army today: weapons. Guided missiles, is it any wonder they're having any book-keeping trouble?"

To help solve the problem, the Army's Ordnance Corps had the university set up a training program in 1952.

Under the title "Ordnance Financial Management Training Program," the university through the fiscal year ended last July had given courses to more than 3,000 military and civilian employees of the Ordnance Corps, the supply and equipment arm of the Army. The corps is spending between $150,000 and $200,000 to send another 2,000 through the courses this fiscal year.

Each year the Ordnance Corps makes from 2 to 3 billion dollars worth of purchases and currently has inventories of about 11 billion dollars.

That gives you an idea of the size of the undertaking which faced the college instructors.

"To begin with," said Thompson, "we had to start with explanations of such simple things as debits and credits. The personnel was used to the old 'free issue' policy and had no idea of how to go about making books balance."

"To exaggerate a bit," he added, "the Army also wanted to teach its people not to buy a whole new engine when a set of spark plugs would do."

He said the Army now has become a "consumer" in the strict business sense of the word:

"It has to budget funds for spare parts. When any one unit gets something from another unit, it's handled as a 'purchase' and a 'sale'. Each unit must be able to state the dollar value of its inventories."

Some of the course titles are enough to make any good soldier run for his abacus. They include:

Appropriation accounting, financial inventor; accounting, contract pricing-facilities layaway, management financial reports, costs analysis and contract financing.

The contracts courses show something of the nature of the involved transactions the Army gets into these days.

Dr. Thompson said many of the purchases made by the modern Army are so technical and involve so much money that it is impossible to get bids on an open basis.

"No one would risk a bid on a set price," he said. "So the contracts have to be negotiated with the contractor demanding various provisions to protect himself against loss. Naturally, the Army wants to keep these loopholes to a minimum."

"You can see that the Army representatives in these negotiations with businessmen need plenty of know-how. That's what we try to give them."

Like anything connected with the Army, the courses go strictly by the book; according to regulations. But the university and the Ordnance Corps have a way to deal with this limitation.

When any new course is established, the university sends out instructors to study the particular operation concerned. The instructors draw up a manual and make a test run of the course with an "my expert sitting in as an observer."

Any matters of policy that seem to conflict with good business procedure are sent to a higher Army level for study.

The classes themselves are operated on an open-forum basis. Questions from the students often bring up other policy problems and these, too, are "sent upstairs" for what is hoped will be a quick solution.

Do the students like the project? "They actually want to take the courses," Thompson said. "and while they're in class, they keep us hopping to supply the answers. What more could any teacher ask?"

4 Happy New Years, Is Wish

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—When lame duck Gov. J. Bracken Lee met his successor, Gov. Elect George D. Clyde, in a Capitol hallway, a newsman heard this salutation from Lee:

"Four happy new years!" Clyde takes off Jan. 7, will serve a four-year term.

By DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Women's Editor

Breathes there a woman who hasn't dressed to the teeth on New Year's Eve only to have the man in her life show up in an old tweed suit?

This all too frequent tragedy should constitute grounds for divorce but most women figure even a man who looks like a refugee from a rummage sale is better than no man at all. So they swallow their chagrin, keep a stiff upper lip and go out with the brutes anyway.

This year, however, things may be different. The men's formal wear industry is going to bat in behalf of America's suffering womanhood, and is making sure Pop won't forget that only a "square" wears a business suit to a formal dance.

The boys are being reminded in various ways. For instance, starting today, any man who leaves a call to be awakened in any one of some 35 leading hotels throughout the country may be startled to be roused from slumber by a cheery voice saying:

"Good morning! It's 7:30. Remember, go formal New Year's Eve!"

Any man who stops in a flower shop anywhere in the country will be greeted by the message, "Go formal New Year's Eve and buy her a corsage."

For the next week the message will be dinned into his ears by TV commentators, department store salesmen and—of course—the little woman.

As a matter of fact, the men have been waking up to the fact that clothes make the man for some time now, as witness the zooming sales of formal male attire.

'Daddy's Haircut' Is Kind of Special

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—When the barber asked Robert Butkin, 3, the usual question about how he wanted his hair cut, he gave the usual answer: "Like my daddy's."

He wasn't satisfied with the barber's efforts so when he got home he took the scissors and finished the job.

His dad, Morris Butkin, is bald.

Floyd C. Redick, the city's service director, said six zoological leaders will be here to see the infant daughter of Christina and the Baron, the Columbus Zoo's gorillas.

The baby gorilla, in her fifth day of life, is being kept in an incubator. Redick said Dr. Leonard Goss and Lee Crandle of the Bronx Zoo, Julian Frazier of the Oklahoma City Zoo, Phil Skeldon of the Toledo Zoo, Fletcher Reynolds of the Cleveland Zoo and Robert Bean of the Chicago Zoo will be here.

Census Bureau Gives Data On U. S. Publishing Industry

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Census Bureau reported today there were 8,646 big and little newspaper publishing firms in the United States in 1954, employing 281,799 men and women on payrolls totaling $1,262,793,000.

The report, an advance study giving excerpts from the 1954 census of manufactures, rated the value of the industry's output $3,091,027,000.

Growth of the industry was indicated by a 22 per cent rise in the number of employees since 1947, when the last previous newspaper census was taken. Few other comparisons were available in the preliminary study.

Receipts of newspapers included $840,867,000 from subscriptions and sales and $2,058,978,000 from advertising. The 1947 figures were $599,925,000 and $1,192,413,000 from advertising.

This disclosed that advertising revenue in 1954 accounted for a somewhat higher proportion of total receipts—about 71 per cent, as against 67 per cent in the 1947 survey.

New York led all states in total number of newspaper firms with 561. Just behind was California, 551. Texas was third with 516 and Illinois fourth with 500.

There were 2,045 magazine publishing establishments in 1954, the study showed. In terms of dollar value of output, newspapers were twice as big an industry as magazines.

The output of periodical publishers was valued at $1,421,720,000 in 1954. They employed 62,428 workers—slightly fewer than in 1947 although the receipts of periodicals increased about 40 per cent in that period.

New York was by far the biggest magazine publishing state with 577 periodical publishers in 1954. Illinois was second with 257 and California third with 181.

The book publishing and printing business had 814 firms with 34,704 employees. Their output was valued at $665,232,000. Book printers, meaning companies which print books for others but are not publishers themselves, numbered 598 firms with 22,695 workers and shipments valued at $221,328,000.

In the miscellaneous publishing category were 946 firms with 18,378 workers. Their combined output was valued at $231,242,000.

Inauguration Rites Set for Ohio Governor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A 19-gun salute, a band concert and a reception in the statehouse rotunda will be part of the inaugural ceremonies Jan. 14 when C. William O'Neill is sworn in as Ohio's next governor.

Plans for the ceremonies were made Wednesday by a civic committee headed by John Galbreath, Columbus realtor.

The program will begin with a concert by visiting bands at 10 a.m. At 11:30, Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, State Treasurer Roger W. Tracey, State Auditor James A. Rhodes and Atty. General William Saxbe, all Republicans, will be sworn into office. Chief Justice Carl V. Weygant of the Ohio Supreme Court will swear in O'Neill at noon.

The 19-gun salute will follow immediately. The statehouse reception will begin at 2:30 p.m. and the inaugural ball will be held at 8:30 p.m. in the Neil House here.

Hurry, Hurry, Girls; Leap Year's Nearly Over

By HOYT McAFEE
(Columbia Club Association)

Calling all bachelor girls and other eligible women in search of husbands: Only a few more days of Leap Year remain!

You must act swiftly — and boldly — if you want to "catch" one of the too — many bachelors in circulation. Custom decrees that from now till midnight of Dec. 31, 1956, you may — in the event you meet the man who suits you — "pop" the question.

Some of you more "forward-looking" and equality-conscious girls may even endorse a proposal made by the Rev. Leslie Conrad, Jr., not long ago. He — the executive secretary of the Lutheran League of America — went on record thusly:

"I am for changing our cultural pattern to such a degree that young ladies might have just as much freedom in choosing their husbands as husbands have in picking their wives." The minister went further and sounded out a flock of eligible young men and women on the worthwhileness of that idea. Almost 95 per cent of the men opposed it, while the girls almost without exception voiced enthusiasm for it!"

IN SHORT, if the Rev. Mr. Conrad's suggestion were adopted generally, you women would be free to take the initiative in your mate hunting, Leap Year or not!

However, for the time being, you're no doubt concerned with your "prospects" for the remainder of 1956. They are, as I'll presently demonstrate, usually stimulating. To cite one detail alone: Census bureau figures reveal that there are more eligible bachelors now (in 1956) than at any time in the past 21 years!

In case you pass up the more casual bachelors and set your sights on something choice or special, the "pickings" for you are decidedly "green." True enough, Grace Kelly, earlier in 1956, took the No. 1 eligible bachelor — Prince Rainier III of Monaco — out of circulation. Just the same, numerous other great catches, equally or more enticing, remain "unhooked," or outside the marriage fold.

To develop the most eligible list possible, I questioned a group of bachelor girls among the movie stars and starlets — from sultry Ann Sheridan to the teenage sensation, Natalie Wood. I had them name their choices of the world's desirable bachelors. Additionally, I sent out one hundred questionnaires to:

One and all, I urged them to single out their favorite bachelors. In the breakdown, their recommendations go like this:

1 — Dag Hammarskjöld, the suave, handsome, "pleasant-mannered" Swede (and secretary-general of the United Nations) — the number one eligible bachelor from the world of diplomacy. He's 49.

2 — FROM THE political world: U. S. Sen. Henry Jackson of Washington.

7 — A REAL-FOR-SURE king — King Baudouin of Belgium, just turning 25 — was selected as one of the most "desirable bachelors." His weaknesses: skiing, racing cars, and sports — minded (or out-door) women. However "bags" him will have a choice of two palaces to live in!

8 — A genuine sheik — 39-year-old Ezzat Gaafar of Arabia — was boosted into a prominent spot on the eligible bachelor roster. Tucker Car Inventor Dies At Age 53

YPSILANTI, Mich. (AP)—Preston Tucker, 53, whose plans to revolutionize auto making raised hopes and heartaches, died in a hospital here Wednesday.

A native of Capac, Mich., Tucker entered the hospital about three weeks ago suffering from cancer. He was stricken with pneumonia just before death.

After World War II, Tucker's plans for a rear-engine car gained widespread publicity.

In February 1946, he revealed that the "torpedo" would be of tear-drop design with a 150-horsepower engine capable of speeds up to 130 m.p.h.

Revolutionary features included front fenders which turned with the wheels. The aluminum car was to sell for about $1,000.

Despite assets totaling $28 million at one time, the corporation's troubles multiplied soon after the Securities and Exchange Commission called the Torpedo an "engineering monstrosity" and cautioned prospective stock purchasers about investing in it.

Tucker and his associates were indicted in 1949 on federal charges of mail fraud and violation of the SEC law. They were found innocent in federal court Jan. 22, 1950.

But Tucker was never able to revive the bankrupt company.

With him perished the fading hope that his Tucker Torpedo might yet be seen in the nation's garages.

After World War II, Tucker's plans for a rear-engined car gained widespread publicity.

In February 1946, he revealed that the "torpedo" would be of tear-drop design with a 150-horsepower engine capable of speeds up to 130 m.p.h.

Revolutionary features included front fenders which turned with the wheels. The aluminum car was to sell for about $1,000.

Despite assets totaling $28 million at one time, the corporation's troubles multiplied soon after the Securities and Exchange Commission called the Torpedo an "engineering monstrosity" and cautioned prospective stock purchasers about investing in it.

Tucker and his associates were indicted in 1949 on federal charges of mail fraud and violation of the SEC law. They were found innocent in federal court Jan. 22, 1950.

But Tucker was never able to revive the bankrupt company.

EGYPTIANS PLACE explosive on 80-foot statue (left) of Ferdinand de Lesseps in Port Said and he topples (right) groundward in a big blast. The Egyptians said the statue was a symbol of imperialism. Before the Anglo-French forces pulled out of the city, they soldered British and French flags to hand of the statue. De Lesseps conceived the Suez canal. (International Radiophotos)

Waitresses on Ocean Liner Prove Successful Innovation

Zero Hour for the Mariposa waitresses finds them applying last-minute lipstick and facial powder.

(Central Press Association)
SAN FRANCISCO — Old salts along the Embarcadero, this city's famed waterfront thoroughfare, no longer mourn for the dear, dead days of "wooden ships and iron men."

Not since the Matson lines blossomed out with waitresses aboard the new South Pacific passenger ship Mariposa, first in Pacific maritime history to carry women for dining room service at sea.

"The old days were never like this," an oldtimer observed happily on the Mariposa's arrival from the Portland, Ore., shipyard. He indicated the array of smiling young women in attractive gray uniforms, lining the after rail.

The waitresses made a very impressive debut on the maiden voyage of the luxurious liner. They have convinced even diehard traditionalists that they can do their job at sea as well as the men could do it.

THE SHIP line's decision to employ waitresses on the new Mariposa and her sister ship, the Monterey, was spurred by an increasing scarcity of first-class seafaring waiters. The change was approved by the Marine Cooks and Stewards union which co-operated with the company in selecting the waitresses from hundreds of applicants.

C. L. Christian, veteran superintending steward, is delighted with the results of the innovation. Waitresses have been employed by some East Coast lines for some time, but the Mariposa is the first ship in Pacific service with feminine dining room personnel.

"The girls have adapted easily to shipboard life," Christian said. "Our policy of carefully selecting waitresses on the basis of first-class dining room experience and general background has paid off. Most important, the passengers are quite happy with the service."

The Mariposa carries 29 waitresses under supervision of Mrs. Alma Beck, hostess matron, formerly of Melbourne, Australia. The Monterey, making her maiden voyage Jan. 5, will carry a similar complement.

Aboard ship, the women live in attractive, comfortable quarters on the main deck, forward, near the dining room where they work. They have their own lounge, outside deck space, recreation area and laundry.

ON DUTY, for breakfast and luncheon service, the waitresses wear trim gray poplin continental style uniforms, with matching apron and head bandette, the latter trimmed in chartreuse.

The dinner uniform comprises a highly-styled white blouse with short sleeves, convertible collar, lustrous black nylon skirt and pert white muslin bandette.

Most of the Mariposa waitresses are in their middle or late twenties, with a few younger and a few older. Most of them declare they are going to sea for the money ($359 a month, base pay) rather than the "adventure." However, a number of the girls acknowledge they were attracted by the lure of visiting such places as Tahiti, Fiji, Samoa, New Zealand and Australia.

"I was working ashore and bored stiff," said Katherine Kalafate of San Francisco. "Now, here I am sailing to the South Seas—and getting paid for it!"

Panama City was called the "Jewel of New Spain" in pioneer days because so much gold and jewels came through there from South America to be sent to Spain.

Next Kitchen To Be Operated By Automation

Electronic Gadgets
To Do 'Thinking'
For Housewife

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK — Automation is spreading fast from the factory to the office and the kitchen.

Mechanization we have long had with us. This is mechanical action served by a power source but guided or controlled by human brains and hands. Example: the electric washer that has to be turned on and off.

To mechanization automation adds guidance and control supplied by additional inanimate units built into the machine itself. Example: The automatic clothes washer.

Automation also often includes the ability to check automatically against mistakes and to apply past experience to future action. Example: The computers used in many offices.

Automated food preparation equipment run by punched cards may be built into tomorrow's kitchens. A punched card recipe would command the movements now performed by the cook. Scientists see the day when punched cards will tell the homemaker what food to order based on the machine's "memory" of what the family likes, how much is thrown away and what quantity of any type of food is consumed over a given period.

From the factory, perhaps, could come an automatic kitchen mixer like the Fairbanks-Morse scales that automatically dole out and measure industrial materials to be mixed.

Homes in the arid southwest already are being equipped with mechanisms that cool the house when the weather outside is hot and reverse themselves to warm the house when the night chill sets in. And Carrier Corp. has just opened a weather engineering laboratory at Syracuse, N. Y., to seek still higher efficiency in home air conditioning.

Householders by now are used to automatic clock radios that let them go to sleep to music and awake to news reports. Today's child learns about automation from his electric train that does many things the model of a generation ago couldn't. TV sets can be flipped from one station to another by a flashlight pointed from across the room while the viewer eats pretzels automatically bent by an American machine and foundry gadget.

Doors that open automatically at your approach and elevators that operate without attendants and even urge passengers to step to the rear are becoming commonplace.

Automation may be coming fast these days to the office and the home, but it's no new thing to American industry.

In 1778 Oliver Evans built an automatic flour mill in a Philadelphia suburb. The wheat was fed in on the ground level, taken by several types of mechanical conveyors to the top floor and then processed automatically step

PAUL BRINKMAN (lower left) is in trouble with the law in Los Angeles over beating of Ted Ryan, whom he supposedly mistook for Homer H. South Charleston Sees Rail Upset

SPRINGFIELD — Three cars of a Pennsylvania Railroad freight train derailed near here Wednesday night, but the railroad said that no injuries resulted.

Supervising operator Robert H. Nizer said the derailment tied up one of two tracks at South Charleston, in southeast Clark county, but that the track was cleared early today.

Nizer said the accident occurred when a tie rod broke on a flatcar holding a large steel casting and the car left the rail, carrying with it two boxcars.

2 Million Acres Plagued by Drought

WASHINGTON — The Agriculture Department reports that nearly two million acres in the drought-plagued Great Plains were damaged by soil-eroding winds during the fall.

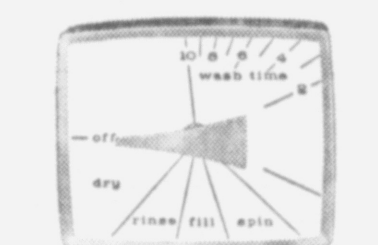

It said a survey indicated 29 million additional acres were in a condition to suffer damage.

The bulk of the damaged land as well as that in condition to blow is located in Colorado, Kansas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas. President Eisenhower plans to by step from floor to floor, until the finished flour was bagged and stacked for shipment. Waterpower furnished theumph and all the work was done automatically.

Social Security Coverage Test For Farm Employees Broadened

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article is the tenth of a series prepared by Leonard S. Garrard, field representative for the Social Security Administration in Fayette County, Garrard's home office is in Columbus.

By LEONARD S. GARRARD
When farm employees were first brought under social security in 1950 coverage under the old-age and survivors insurance program was restricted to those workers who met a rather strict and complicated regularity-of-work test.

The 1954 amendments changed the above test. The regularity-of-work restriction was removed and replaced by a cash wages test. Through 1956, if a farm employee is paid as much as $100 cash wages by any one farm employer in a year, his earnings are creditable for social security purposes and should be reported by the employer to his social security account.

THIS YEAR a further change has been made in the coverage test for farm employees. Under an amendment which will become effective beginning with 1957, farm work will count toward social security benefits if the worker meets either of two conditions:

(1) If the farm employer pays him $150 or more in cash during the year; (2) if he does farm work for an employer on 20 or more days during a year for cash pay figured on a time basis (that is, on some unit of time such as an hour, day, or week), rather than on a piece-rate basis.

For the $150-a-year test, both piece-rate pay and pay based on a unit of time count and the total number of days worked does not matter; for the 20-day test, the total amount of cash pay is not a consideration so long as farm work is done for one employer on 20 or more days for cash pay.

The 1954 law did not cover agricultural work performed by workers from Mexico hired under contract or by foreign workers lawfully admitted from the British West Indies on a temporary basis.

Under the 1956 amendments, service performed by foreign workers admitted to the United States on a temporary basis to perform agricultural work from any foreign country will not be covered by the law after 1956.

IF YOU ARE a farmer, or if you gain a livelihood in any kind of agricultural or horticultural work, either in employment or self-employment, the social security law as newly amended is important to you and your family.

It is well to realize that this program of social insurance is now

three-fold — it provides old-age benefits for men at age 65 and for women at 62; it provides survivor protection for young wives and minor children and to aged parents and dependent husbands; it provides benefits to the insured disabled worker after he reaches age 50.

These and other changes in the law which affect the working population and the nation's families in general are described in special leaflets available at any district office of the Social Security Administration.

As a farmer, or a rancher, they will be of interest and importance to you.

A steam powered vehicle was invented by French engineer Nicholas Cugnot in 1770. It was designed to carry only heavy artillery in war, and was a failure. It ran out of steam every fifteen minutes.

Waitresses on Ocean Liner Prove Successful Innovation

Zero Hour for the Mariposa waitresses finds them applying last-minute lipstick and facial powder.

(Central Press Association)
SAN FRANCISCO — Old salts along the Embarcadero, this city's famed waterfront thoroughfare, no longer mourn for the dear, dead days of "wooden ships and iron men."

Not since the Matson lines blossomed out with waitresses aboard the new South Pacific passenger ship Mariposa, first in Pacific maritime history to carry women for dining room service at sea.

"The old days were never like this," an oldtimer observed happily on the Mariposa's arrival from the Portland, Ore., shipyard. He indicated the array of smiling young women in attractive gray uniforms, lining the after rail.

The waitresses made a very impressive debut on the maiden voyage of the luxurious liner. They have convinced even diehard traditionalists that they can do their job at sea as well as the men could do it.

THE SHIP line's decision to employ waitresses on the new Mariposa and her sister ship, the Monterey, was spurred by an increasing scarcity of first-class seafaring waiters. The change was approved by the Marine Cooks and Stewards union which co-operated with the company in selecting the waitresses from hundreds of applicants.

C. L. Christian, veteran superintending steward, is delighted with the results of the innovation. Waitresses have been employed by some East Coast lines for some time, but the Mariposa is the first ship in Pacific service with feminine dining room personnel.

"The girls have adapted easily to shipboard life," Christian said. "Our policy of carefully selecting waitresses on the basis of first-class dining room experience and general background has paid off. Most important, the passengers are quite happy with the service."

The Mariposa carries 29 waitresses under supervision of Mrs. Alma Beck, hostess matron, formerly of Melbourne, Australia. The Monterey, making her maiden voyage Jan. 5, will carry a similar complement.

Aboard ship, the women live in attractive, comfortable quarters on the main deck, forward, near the dining room where they work. They have their own lounge, outside deck space, recreation area and laundry.

ON DUTY, for breakfast and luncheon service, the waitresses wear trim gray poplin continental style uniforms, with matching apron and head bandette, the latter trimmed in chartreuse.

The dinner uniform comprises a highly-styled white blouse with short sleeves, convertible collar, lustrous black nylon skirt and pert white muslin bandette.

Most of the Mariposa waitresses are in their middle or late twenties, with a few younger and a few older. Most of them declare they are going to sea for the money ($359 a month, base pay) rather than the "adventure." However, a number of the girls acknowledge they were attracted by the lure of visiting such places as Tahiti, Fiji, Samoa, New Zealand and Australia.

"I was working ashore and bored stiff," said Katherine Kalafate of San Francisco. "Now, here I am sailing to the South Seas—and getting paid for it!"

Panama City was called the "Jewel of New Spain" in pioneer days because so much gold and jewels came through there from South America to be sent to Spain.

Next Kitchen To Be Operated By Automation

Electronic Gadgets
To Do 'Thinking'
For Housewife

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK — Automation is spreading fast from the factory to the office and the kitchen.

Mechanization we have long had with us. This is mechanical action served by a power source but guided or controlled by human brains and hands. Example: the electric washer that has to be turned on and off.

To mechanization automation adds guidance and control supplied by additional inanimate units built into the machine itself. Example: The automatic clothes washer.

Automation also often includes the ability to check automatically against mistakes and to apply past experience to future action. Example: The computers used in many offices.

Automated food preparation equipment run by punched cards may be built into tomorrow's kitchens. A punched card recipe would command the movements now performed by the cook. Scientists see the day when punched cards will tell the homemaker what food to order based on the machine's "memory" of what the family likes, how much is thrown away and what quantity of any type of food is consumed over a given period.

From the factory, perhaps, could come an automatic kitchen mixer like the Fairbanks-Morse scales that automatically dole out and measure industrial materials to be mixed.

Homes in the arid southwest already are being equipped with mechanisms that cool the house when the weather outside is hot and reverse themselves to warm the house when the night chill sets in. And Carrier Corp. has just opened a weather engineering laboratory at Syracuse, N. Y., to seek still higher efficiency in home air conditioning.

Householders by now are used to automatic clock radios that let them go to sleep to music and awake to news reports. Today's child learns about automation from his electric train that does many things the model of a generation ago couldn't. TV sets can be flipped from one station to another by a flashlight pointed from across the room while the viewer eats pretzels automatically bent by an American machine and foundry gadget.

Doors that open automatically at your approach and elevators that operate without attendants and even urge passengers to step to the rear are becoming commonplace.

Automation may be coming fast these days to the office and the home, but it's no new thing to American industry.

In 1778 Oliver Evans built an automatic flour mill in a Philadelphia suburb. The wheat was fed in on the ground level, taken by several types of mechanical conveyors to the top floor and then processed automatically step

South Charleston Sees Rail Upset

SPRINGFIELD — Three cars of a Pennsylvania Railroad freight train derailed near here Wednesday night, but the railroad said that no injuries resulted.

Supervising operator Robert H. Nizer said the derailment tied up one of two tracks at South Charleston, in southeast Clark county, but that the track was cleared early today.

Nizer said the accident occurred when a tie rod broke on a flatcar holding a large steel casting and the car left the rail, carrying with it two boxcars.

2 Million Acres Plagued by Drought

WASHINGTON — The Agriculture Department reports that nearly two million acres in the drought-plagued Great Plains were damaged by soil-eroding winds during the fall.

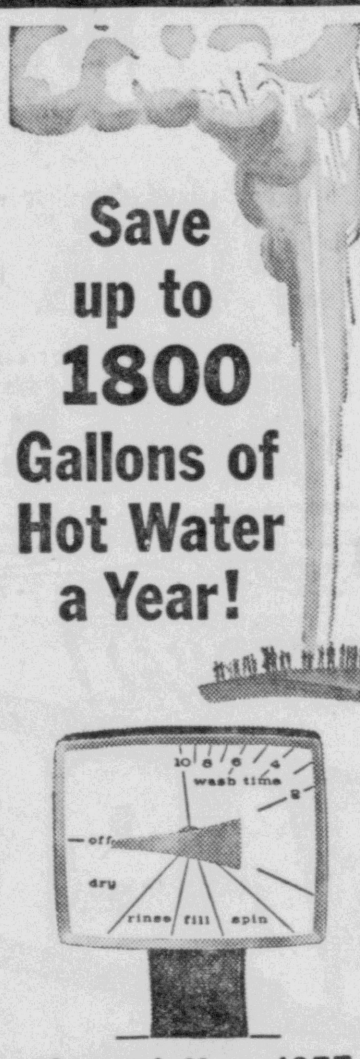

It said a survey indicated 29 million additional acres were in a condition to suffer damage.

The bulk of the damaged land as well as that in condition to blow is located in Colorado, Kansas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas. President Eisenhower plans to

Social Security Coverage Test For Farm Employes Broadened

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article is the tenth of a series prepared by Leonard S. Garrard, field representative for the Social Security Administration in Fayette County, Garrard's home office is in Columbus.

By LEONARD S. GARRARD
When farm employes were first brought under social security in 1950 coverage under the old-age and survivors insurance program was restricted to those workers who met a rather strict and complicated regularity-of-work test.

The 1954 amendments changed the above test. The regularity-of-work restriction was removed and replaced by a cash wages test. Through 1956, if a farm employe is paid as much as $100 cash wages by any one farm employer in a year, his earnings are creditable for social security purposes and should be reported by the employer to his social security account.

THIS YEAR a further change has been made in the coverage test for farm employes. Under an amendment which will become effective beginning with 1957, farm work will count toward social security benefits if the worker meets either of two conditions:

(1) If the farm employer pays him $150 or more in cash during the year; (2) if he does farm work for an employer on 20 or more days during a year for cash pay figured on a time basis (that is, on some unit of time such as an hour, day, or week), rather than on a piece-rate basis.

For the $150-a-year test, both piece-rate pay and pay based on a unit of time count and the total number of days worked does not matter; for the 20-day test, the total amount of cash pay is not a consideration so long as farm work is done for one employer on 20 or more days for cash pay.

The 1954 law did not cover agricultural work performed by workers from Mexico hired under contract or by foreign workers lawfully admitted from the British West Indies on a temporary basis.

Under the 1956 amendments, service performed by foreign workers admitted to the United States on a temporary basis to perform agricultural work from any foreign country will not be covered by the law after 1956.

IF YOU ARE a farmer, or if you gain a livelihood in any kind of agricultural or horticultural work, either in employment or self-employment, the social security law as newly amended is important to you and your family.

It is well to realize that this program of social insurance is now

three-fold — it provides old-age benefits for men at age 65 and for women at 62; it provides survivor protection for young wives and minor children and to aged parents and dependent husbands; it provides benefits to the insured disabled worker after he reaches age 50.

These and other changes in the law which affect the working population and the nation's families in general are described in special leaflets available at any district office of the Social Security Administration.

As a farmer, or a rancher, they will be of interest and importance to you.

A steam powered vehicle was invented by French engineer Nicholas Cugnot in 1770. It was designed to carry only heavy artillery in war, and was a failure. It ran out of steam every fifteen minutes.

Kansas Crew Proven To Be Very Human

Stilt's Aggregation Barely Skims Through To Tourney Victory

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Kansas and Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain are human, after a

The Jayhawks, rated No. 1 nationally, just managed to escape being victims of the biggest upset of the campaign Wednesday night. It took a field goal by Gene Elstun in the last six seconds to give them a 58-57 victory over Iowa State in the opening round of the Big Seven tournament.

What's more, Chamberlain, who had been averaging 35.5 points a game, scored only 12 as Iowa State used a three-man see-saw defense against the seven-foot center. The Stilt had only two points, both on free throws, in the second half. The victory was unbeaten Kansas' seventh. Iowa State is now 6-1.

In another first-round game, Oklahoma turned back Kansas State 67-64. Missouri takes on Colorado and Nebraska meets Michigan State tonight.

Highly touted North Carolina also hits the tournament trail tonight as the Dixie Classic opens in Raleigh, N.C. The Tar Heels, unbeaten in eight starts, go up against darkhorse Utah in the second game of a night twin-bill. West Virginia, No. 4, faces Duke in the opener. An afternoon double-header pits Wake Forest against DePaul and Iowa against North Carolina State.

Thus far, form in the tournaments has been knocked flat.

Wednesday ECAC competition, for example, resulted in Brigham Young, Ohio State, Manhattan and Notre Dame advancing to the semifinals. The first three teams were underdogs.

Brigham Young trounced St. John's of Brooklyn 89-75 and Ohio State beat Temple 64-63 in the afternoon and the night twin-bill at the Garden saw Manhattan wallop Niagara 95-79 and Notre Dame nip New York University 72-71.

The victories by Notre Dame and Ohio State were notched in thrilling fashion. Bob Devine's layup as the final buzzer sounded won for the Irish, who trailed by eight points with six minutes left to play. Ohio State broke a 61-61 tie with Temple on two free throws by Jim Laughlin and another by Frank Howard.

Friday night's semis list Ohio State against Manhattan and Notre Dame vs. Brigham Young. There was an upset in a non-tournament game too. UCLA surprised fifth-ranked St. Louis 72-66. Bill Eblen of the Bruins scored 16 of his team's last 12 points.

Helen Aue Faces Probe In Shootings

CINCINNATI — Doctors at General Hospital say Mrs. Helen Aue has improved sufficiently that investigators may be able to question her about the shootings at her home last Friday.

But she was still listed in "critical" condition Wednesday night with a gunshot chest wound. Henry N. Hooper, hospital superintendent, said any interviews today will depend on her condition.

Mrs. Aue, 50, was shot in the back and doctors said she is paralyzed from the waist down. Whether the paralysis is only temporary has not yet been determined.

A physician Wednesday told her that her husband, Lester, 54, and daughter Susan, 17, together with Susan's boy friend, Gordon Pape, Jr., 19, were shot to death in the barrage of gunfire Friday at the Aue home.

Investigators believed that Mrs. Aue was the first one shot, but said that heretofore she has been too critically hurt to be questioned.

Police have blamed young Pape for the shootings, and said letters indicated he was despondent over a broken romance with Susan.

New York Central Plans Expansion

NEW YORK —The New York Central Railroad announced today it will build the "most modern push-button railroad yards in the world" at Elkhart, Ind., and Youngstown, Ohio.

Cost of the electronic-equipped freight yards is $21 million.

Alfred E. Perlman, president of the Central, said the projects will be started soon and should be completed by late 1957 or early 1958. They are part of a modernization program that has already brought a $10,599,000 electronic yard close to completion at Buffalo, N. Y.

The Central said the three new yards will permit drastic cuts in time needed to handle trains and freight on its 10,000-mile system.

Boys; 11 and 14, Held for Thefts

DAYTON, Ohio —Police took into custody Wednesday an 11-year-old boy and his 14-year-old companion who admitted:

Starting a $2,000 fire in a restaurant.

Stealing a car.

Stealing $206 in cash from two homes and $7,000 in stocks and bonds.

Burning the stocks and bonds. Two other 14-year-olds found with a suitcase and other stolen property implicated the boy and his friend, police said. All four were held for juvenile authorities.

Weather Report Service Urged

CINCINNATI —City Manager C. A. Harrell Wednesday proposed that the city go into the weather reporting field by setting up a station at Lunken Airport.

Harrell said the move would increase the field's safety and would remove the possibility that Lunken's instrument approach procedure could be cancelled. He said that without the procedure there would be a "drastic reduction" in use of the field.

Burns Prove Fatal To Mother, 34

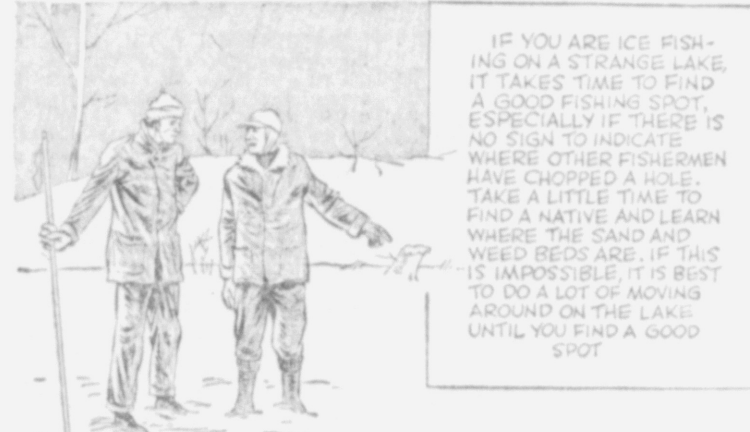

CLEVELAND —Mrs. Martha Ziegler, 34, died Wednesday night of burns received in a fire that also claimed the life of her 5-year-old son, Larry.

Larry's twin, Laura, and their father, Lawrence, 36, were in fair condition at City Hospital.

The parents were burned trying to rescue the twins when the fire swept their residence on the city's west side. Another child, Beverly, 8, was not harmed.

Bears, Giants Prepping for Title Joust

NEW YORK —It was beginning to appear today that the Chicago Bears and the New York Giants are treading two different paths toward the National Football League title Sunday.

The Bears worked on the field eight consecutive days after they clinched the Western Division title with their triumph over the Detroit Lions.

They had a respite Christmas Day, but were right back at the contact work again Wednesday. There even is talk of the Bears being overtrained.

But Coach Paddy Driscoll said that he has detected no signs of them going stale. In fact, he said he would work them out again today, followed by a lighter session Friday, before leaving Chicago.

The Giants, on the other hand, have been taking things easy. Coach Jim Lee Howell gave the team three days off after winning the Eastern title on Dec. 15. Then the players had a free weekend and two more days off this week.

The Giants worked out Wednesday with one group of players simulating Bear plays. They also had a long lecture on just what to expect from the Bear defense.

There's no doubt about it, most experts figure the game as a test of Giant defense against Bear offense.

"That's all wrong," said one member of the Giant brain trust. "We definitely don't intend to rely on our defense. We aim to stay ahead by the simple matter of scoring more points."

Aussies Sew Up Davis Cup again

ADELAIDE, Australia —Ken Rosewall and Lew Hoad won the Davis Cup for Australia today by defeating a U. S. team of Vic Seixas and Sam Giammalva 1-6, 6-1, 7-5, 6-4.

The doubles victory gave the Aussies a 3-0 lead in the best-of-five competition and assures the coveted cup—symbol of world tennis supremacy—staying Down Under another year. Friday's two final single matches will be nothing more than exhibitions.

Pastrano Seeking More Conditioning

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. —Willie Pastrano, speedy young contender for Floyd Patterson's heavyweight boxing title, is among the first to admit he isn't quite ready to take on the champ.

"I'd like to have a few more fights before I tackle Patterson," the 20-year-old jab and dance artist commented after winning a unanimous decision over Charley Norkus here Wednesday night.

Pastrano, ranked No. 3 among the title contenders, injured a knuckle on his right hand in a bout with Pat McMurry in October and his bout with Norkus was the first test since.

Iowa Favored In Rose Bowl

PASADENA, Calif. —The Iowa Hawkeyes today remain the solid favorite to whip Oregon State and it almost requires a search warrant to locate anyone brave enough to pick the Pacific Coast Conference contender.

Iowa rates as the favorite because it played a tougher schedule, losing only to Michigan by three points. It is the larger team and while neither is blessed with unusual depth in reserves, Iowa is probably a little better equipped in this department.

But Oregon State, despite losses to Southern California and Iowa and a tie by Oregon, may not appreciate all these facts. Some are history, not facts.

BOSTON —Bill Russell, gaining confidence to match the spring in his $17,000 legs, may cause some changes in professional basketball on the strength of his four games.

The 6-10 All-America and Olympic ace grabbed 34 rebounds, scored 15 points and generally gave the Warriors fits as his contribution to Boston's 120-97 NBA victory over Philadelphia Wednesday night.

In the first game of the double-header, Ft. Wayne defeated Rochester 99-93.

Jackson Slated To Test Mederos

MILWAUKEE —Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson, the No. 1 heavyweight challenger who fights all the time from all directions, engages Cuba's Julio Mederos in a scheduled 10 rounder at the Milwaukee Arena tonight. There will be no television.

The rugged Mederos is one of the several better battlers that Jackson must get by to keep his title hopes alive. The Cuban has won 15 of his 17 victories by knockouts. His victims include Roland LaStarza and Harold Johnson. Mederos, not among the rated contenders, has been beaten 14 times and two of his bouts ended in draws.

Machen, from Redding, Calif., won the "progress" award on the strength of his spectacular climb up the heavyweight ladder. He is ranked fourth among Floyd Patterson's challengers.

Machen turned pro in 1955 after only a few amateur fights. He has scored 14 knockouts and has two victories over Cuba's Nino Valdes. He decisioned Johnny Summerlin of Detroit in his last bout.

Kansas Crew Proven To Be Very Human

Stilt's Aggregation Barely Skims Through To Tourney Victory

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Kansas and Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain are human, after all.

The Jayhawks, rated No. 1 nationally, just managed to escape being victims of the biggest upset of the campaign Wednesday night. It took a field goal by Gene Elstun in the last six seconds to give them a 58-57 victory over Iowa State in the opening round of the Big Seven tournament.

What's more, Chamberlain, who had been averaging 35.5 points a game, scored only 12 as Iowa State used a three-man see-saw defense against the seven-foot center. The Stilt had only two points, both on free throws, in the second half. The victory was unbeaten Kansas' seventh. Iowa State is now 6-1.

In another first-round game, Oklahoma turned back Kansas State 67-64. Missouri takes on Colorado and Nebraska meets Michigan State tonight.

Highly touted North Carolina also hits the tournament trail tonight as the Dixie Classic opens in Raleigh, N.C. The Tar Heels, unbeaten in eight starts, go up against darkhorse Utah in the second game of a night twin-bill. West Virginia, No. 4, faces Duke in the opener. An afternoon double-header pits Wake Forest against DePaul and Iowa against North Carolina State.

Thus far, form in the tournaments has been knocked flat.

Wednesday ECAC competition, for example, resulted in Brigham Young, Ohio State, Manhattan and Notre Dame advancing to the semifinals. The first three teams were underdogs.

Brigham Young trounced St. John's of Brooklyn 89-75 and Ohio State beat Temple 64-63 in the afternoon and the night twin-bill at the Garden saw Manhattan wallop Niagara 95-79 and Notre Dame nip New York University 72-71.

The victories by Notre Dame and Ohio State were notched in thrilling fashion. Bob Devine's layup as the final buzzer sounded won for the Irish, who trailed by eight points with six minutes left to play. Ohio State broke a 61-61 tie with Temple on two free throws by Jim Laughlin and another by Frank Howard.

Friday night's semis list Ohio State against Manhattan and Notre Dame vs. Brigham Young. There was an upset in a non-tournament game too. UCLA surprised fifth-ranked St. Louis 72-66. Bill Eblen of the Bruins scored 10 of his team's last 12 points.

Helen Aue Faces Probe In Shootings

CINCINNATI (AP) — Doctors at General Hospital say Mrs. Helen Aue has improved sufficiently that investigators may be able to question her about the shootings at her home last Friday.

But she was still listed in "critical" condition Wednesday night with a gunshot chest wound. Henry N. Hooper, hospital superintendent, said any interviews today will depend on her condition.

Mrs. Aue, 50, was shot in the back and doctors said she is paralyzed from the waist down. Whether the paralysis is only temporary has not yet been determined.

A physician Wednesday told her that her husband, Lester, 54, and daughter Susan, 17, together with Susan's boy friend, Gordon Pape, Jr., 19, were shot to death in the barrage of gunfire Friday at the Aue home.

Investigators believed that Mrs. Aue was the first one shot, but said that heretofore she has been too critically hurt to be questioned.

Police have blamed young Pape for the shootings, and said letters indicated he was despondent over a broken romance with Susan.

New York Central Plans Expansion

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Central Railroad announced today it will build the "most modern push-button railroad yards in the world" at Elkhart, Ind., and Youngstown, Ohio.

Cost of the electronic-equipped freight yards is $21 million.

Alfred E. Perlman, president of the Central, said the projects will be started soon and should be completed by late 1957 or early 1958. They are part of a modernization program that has already brought a $10,599,000 electronic yard close to completion at Buffalo, N. Y.

The Central said the three new yards will permit drastic cuts in time needed to handle trains and freight on its 10,000-mile system.

For some unexplained reason, Florida has a new songbird. It is the flame-orange and black-spotted breasted oriole which settled near Miami. Previously these birds were seen only in Mexico and Central America.

Boys; 11 and 14, Held for Thefts

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Police took into custody Wednesday an 11-year-old boy and his 14-year-old companion who admitted:

Starting a $2,000 fire in a restaurant. Stealing a car. Stealing $206 in cash from two homes and $7,000 in stocks and bonds.

Burning the stocks and bonds. Two other 14-year-olds found with a suitcase and other stolen property implicated the boy and his friend, police said. All four were held for juvenile authorities.

Weather Report Service Urged

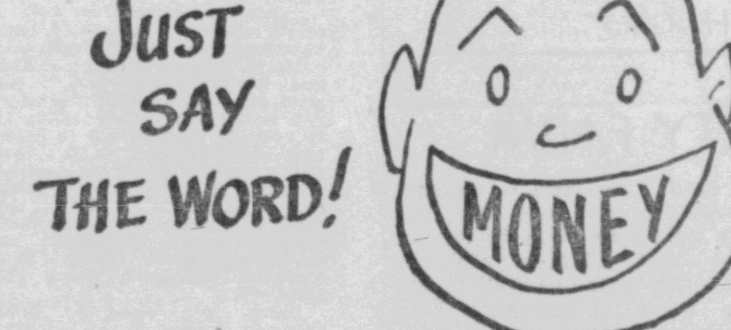

CINCINNATI (AP) — City Manager C. A. Harrell Wednesday urged that the city go into the weather.

Fur, Fin and Campfire

IF YOU ARE ICE FISHING ON A STRANGE LAKE, IT TAKES TIME TO FIND A GOOD FISHING SPOT. ESPECIALLY IF THERE IS NO SIGN TO INDICATE WHERE OTHER FISHERMEN HAVE CHOPPED A HOLE. TAKE A LITTLE TIME TO FIND A NATIVE AND LEARN WHERE THE SAND AND WEED BEDS ARE. IF THIS IS IMPOSSIBLE, IT IS BEST TO DO A LOT OF MOVING AROUND ON THE LAKE UNTIL YOU FIND A GOOD SPOT.

IF YOU ARE A NORTHERNER AND ARE PLANNING A SOUTHERN FISHING TRIP THIS WINTER, REMEMBER THAT YOU CAN GET A SEVERE BURN FROM THE SUN, ESPECIALLY ON WATER. BE AS CAREFUL AS YOU ARE UP NORTH IN THE SUMMER.

Bears, Giants Prepping for Title Joust

NEW YORK (AP) — It was beginning to appear today that the Chicago Bears and the New York Giants are treading two different paths toward the National Football League title Sunday.

The Bears worked on the field eight consecutive days after they clinched the Western Division title with their triumph over the Detroit Lions.

They had a respite Christmas Day, but were right back at the contact work again Wednesday. There even is talk of the Bears being overtrained.

But Coach Paddy Driscoll said that he has detected no signs of them going stale. In fact, he said he would work them out again today, followed by a lighter session Friday, before leaving Chicago.

The Giants, on the other hand, have been taking things easy. Coach Jim Lee Howell gave the team three days off after winning the Eastern title on Dec. 15. Then the players had a free weekend and two more days off this week.

The Giants worked out Wednesday with one group of players simulating Bear plays. They also had a long lecture on just what to expect from the Bear defense.

There's no doubt about it, most experts figure the game as a test of Giant defense against Bear offense.

"That's all wrong," said one member of the Giant brain trust. "We definitely don't intend to rely on our defense. We aim to stay ahead by the simple matter of scoring more points."

Aussies Sew Up Davis Cup again

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP) — Ken Rosewall and Lew Hoad won the Davis Cup for Australia today by defeating a U. S. team of Vic Seixas and Sam Giammalva 1-6, 6-1, 7-5, 6-4.

The doubles victory gave the Aussies a 3-0 lead in the best-of-five competition and assures the coveted cup—symbol of world tennis supremacy—staying Down Under another year. Friday's two final single matches will be nothing more than exhibitions.

THE DRESS SHOWN ABOVE comes from the collection of Cecil Chapman. It is a black and Royal blue Jacquard sheath. The deep collar extends to the Royal blue band and bow at the Empire waist.

REPORTING FIELD BY SETTING UP A STATION at Lunken Airport.

Harrell said the move would increase the field's safety and would remove the possibility that Lunken's instrument approach procedure could be cancelled. He said that without the procedure there would be a "drastic reduction" in use of the field.

Burns Prove Fatal To Mother, 34

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mrs. Martha Ziegler, 34, died Wednesday night of burns received in a fire that also claimed the life of her 5-year-old son, Larry.

Larry's twin, Laura, and their father, Lawrence, 36, were in fair condition at City Hospital.

The parents were burned trying to rescue the twins when the fire swept their residence on the city's west side. Another child, Beverly, 8, was not harmed.

Pastrano Seeking More Conditioning

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Willie Pastrano, speedy young contender for Floyd Patterson's heavyweight boxing title, is among the first to admit he isn't quite ready to take on the champ.

"I'd like to have a few more fights before I tackle Patterson," the 20-year-old jab and dance artist commented after winning a unanimous decision over Charley Norkus here Wednesday night.

Pastrano, ranked No. 3 among the title contenders, injured a knuckle on his right hand in a bout with Pat McMurry in October and his bout with Norkus was the first test since.

Iowa Favored In Rose Bowl

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The Iowa Hawkeyes today remain the solid favorite to whip Oregon State and it almost requires a search warrant to locate anyone brave enough to pick the Pacific Coast Conference contender.

Iowa rates as the favorite because it played a tougher schedule, losing only to Michigan by three points. It is the larger team and while neither is blessed with unusual depth in reserves, Iowa is probably a little better equipped in this department.

But Oregon State, despite losses to Southern California and Iowa and a tie by Oregon, may not appreciate all these facts. Some are history, not facts.

Russell Shining In Pro Cage Play

BOSTON (AP) — Bill Russell, gaining confidence to match the spring in his $17,000 legs, may cause some changes in professional basketball on the strength of his four games.

The 6-10 All-America and Olympic ace grabbed 34 rebounds, scored 15 points and generally gave the Warriors fits as his contribution to Boston's 120-97 NBA victory over Philadelphia Wednesday night.

In the first game of the double-header, Ft. Wayne defeated Rochester 99-93.

Jackson Slated To Test Mederos

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson, the No. 1 heavyweight challenger who fights all the time from all directions, engages Cuba's Julio Mederos in a scheduled 10 rounder at the Milwaukee Arena tonight. There will be no television.

The rugged Mederos is one of the several better battlers that Jackson must get by to keep his title hopes alive. The Cuban has won 15 of his 17 victories by knockouts. His victims include Roland LaStarza and Harold Johnson. Mederos, not among the rated contenders, has been beaten 14 times and two of his bouts ended in draws.

Machen Awarded 'Progress' Prize

NEW YORK (AP) — Unbeaten Eddie Machen, winner of 19 pro bouts, was designated today as the boxer who made the most progress in 1956 by Ring Magazine.

Machen, from Redding, Calif., won the "progress" award on the strength of his spectacular climb up the heavyweight ladder. He is ranked fourth among Floyd Patterson's challengers.

Machen turned pro in 1955 after only a few amateur fights. He has scored 14 knockouts and has two victories over Cuba's Nino Valdes. He decided Johnny Summerlin of Detroit in his last bout.

Robert Massie Begins Duties as City Policeman

Rawlings St. Man Fills Vacancy Left By Resignation

Robert T. Massie, 330 Rawlings St., reported for duty with the city police department Wednesday night, bringing the departmental strength up to 11 men including the chief.

Massie, 26, was appointed as a patrolman Wednesday afternoon by City Manager James F. Parkinson on recommendation of Police Chief Vaiden Long. Second on the City Civil Service Commission's eligibility list, Massie replaces Patrolman Kenneth Sanderson who resigned recently.

The new officer attended Madison Mills schools and for three years was a member of Co. M, Ohio National Guard. He was a machine operator at the Chrysler plant in Dayton for 4½ years.

He is married and the father of two children.

Standard police department strength is 12 men.

Social Security Tax Rate Change Effective Jan. 1

District Director of Internal Revenue Russell A. Welch, of Cincinnati, reminded employers today that recent amendments have changed tax rates under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act (Social Security) and filing requirements under the Federal Unemployment Tax Act.

New FICA rates on wages paid on or after Jan. 1, 1957, will be 2½ percent each for employers and employees, a total of 4½ percent, Welch pointed out.

The changes in the Federal Unemployment Tax Act, he explained, provide that employers who had four or more employees on at least one day of each of 20 calendar weeks during 1956 will be required to file Form 940 by Jan. 31, 1957. The filing of Form 940, the annual federal tax return of employers, was formerly required of employers who had eight or more employees.

Welch said that copies of this return have been sent to most of the employers in this district. However, he suggested that employers who have not received this form by Jan. 9 obtain copies from the Internal Revenue Office, Federal Bldg., Cincinnati, O.

Interest Lacking In Inauguration?

WASHINGTON (AP)—Capital hotels report with some puzzlement that they have plenty of rooms still available for the inauguration next month.

Bourbon Dawes, executive vice president of the Washington Hotel Assn., said today that by this time in 1952 reservations were in hand for 95 per cent of the space available in 33 downtown hotels which are members of his organization.

By Inauguration Day, Jan. 20, 1953, they were booked 100 per cent. But now, Dawes estimates, about 2,100 reservations have been made so far—less than a third the business of 1953.

Defiance Youth Held in Stabbing

DEFIANCE (AP)—The Defiance County sheriff's office Wednesday night was holding John William Downs, 17, in the fatal stabbing of 16-year-old Leonard Eugene Emeling.

Sheriff K. Bridenbaugh said Downs admitted stabbing Emeling in a fight over a 14-year-old girl.

City Council Action

Permit applicants will be given 30 days to complete the required formalities, and after that time a penalty of 10 per cent of the permit cost will be assessed for each month or fraction of a month that they remain in the auditor's files. Technically, permits should be in the builders' hands before any construction work is started.

COUNCIL received from Mac Dews, Washington C. H. realtor, a petition to vacate what is known as Fountain Ave., an unused street running between Washington Ave. and Yeoman St., 165 feet west of Elm St. Dedicated for public use, the 33-foot strip has never been a part of the city's street system and is now a grassplot.

All abutting landowners had signed the petition which Council referred to the City Planning Commission (Zoning Board of Appeals) with a recommendation that the "paper street" be vacated. George Pensyl is chairman of the commission.

TWO ADDITIONAL transfers from the general fund, both on a loan basis, were approved by Council. The sum of $4,000 was transferred to the street maintenance and repair fund to defray the cost of the asphaltic surfacing of Sycamore St. which was not included in the city's 1956 budget.

The sum of $10,000 was loaned from the general fund to the sewage revenue fund to be used as part payment for the preparation of detailed plans and specifications for the city's proposed $430,000 sewage treatment plant expansion program.

The total bill for the planning service is expected to be approximately $30,000. The city is requesting a $129,000 federal assistance grant for the project which has been ordered by the Ohio Water Pollution Control Board.

If the grant is approved, 30 per cent of the cost of plans will be recovered by the city.

Rep. Powell Fears Purge Aimed at Him

NEW YORK (AP)—Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-NY), who bolted the Democratic presidential ticket to support President Eisenhower, says House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) seems "bent on purging me."

Powell, a Negro said Wednesday night that Rayburn sent him a letter dated Dec. 4 and told him he would not be given a set of new congressional offices. Powell said he was entitled to these offices "on the basis of seniority."

Powell declared: "As on March 1, I was entitled to new offices being vacated by Dan Reed (R-NY). He (Rayburn) has given these offices to Chelf of Kentucky (Rep. Frank L. Chelf) because I did not support the nominees for President and vice president on the Democratic ticket and Chelf did support them."

"That seems to indicate that Rayburn is bent on purging me, but if the Democratic caucus on Jan. 2 purges me as the first person in the history of the Democratic party it will be obvious that they are purging me only because I am a Negro."

"They have never done it to any of the state rights boys from Dixieland."

Powell supported the Eisenhower ticket, he said, because he preferred the President's stand on civil rights to that of Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee. Powell said at the time he was still a Democrat.

U. S. House Dies In Los Angeles

U. S. House, 92, a native of Fayette County, died Sunday morning in a hospital in Los Angeles where he had lived for half a century.

Word of his death was received today by his two closest relatives here, Mrs. Beryl Cavine, 325 E. Market St., a niece, and Charles Siebern, of Snowhill Rd., a nephew.

Mr. House was born on a farm on the Miami Trace about a mile south of the CCC Highway. As a young man he read law with Judge James L. Zimmerman here and later was admitted to the bar.

He went to Los Angeles in the 1890s, where he practiced law and was engaged in the real estate business.

Mrs. House preceded him in death, but he is survived by a daughter, Miss Florence House, who made her home with him.

Funeral service, followed by cremation, were held in Los Angeles Tuesday.

Columbus Man Held As Drunken Driver

Frederick W. Byers, 21, Columbus salesman, is being held here on a driving while intoxicated charge for arraignment in Municipal Court, probably Friday. There is no court session on Thursday.

Byers was arrested at 12:15 a. m. Thursday on Court St. by Patrolman Rodman Scott, who made out the DWI affidavit after Byers had been given the alcometer test.

Masons To Attend Services Sunday

Members of the Blue Lodge of the Masonic Order here will attend special St. John's Day services at Grace Methodist Church Sunday morning.

Masons will assemble at the church at 9:15 a. m. and file in together to take the pews that will be reserved for them. Around 50 are expected to attend the service, starting at 9:30.

The Rev. Perry Grimm, a retired Methodist minister who now makes his home here, will occupy the pulpit in the absence of the Rev. L. J. Poe, Grace Church pastor, who is now on vacation. Mr. Grimm's sermon topic will be: "When the Angels Had Gone Away."

This is an annual custom of the lodge here. St. John the Evangelist, and St. John the Baptist, are patron saints of the Masonic order which observes two St. John's Days each year, one in December and one in June.

Pasadena Expects Huge Gathering

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Pasadena Police Chief Clarence Morris estimates that about a half million cars carrying 1½ million people will swarm into Pasadena Tuesday for the Tournament of Roses Parade and Rose Bowl football game.

The parade will include 63 flower-decked floats, 20 bands and about 200 horseback riders, in addition to banner carriers and three rose-covered cars carrying grand marshal Eddie Rickenbacker and other parade officials.

Gretchen Darlington May Become New District Nurse Supervisor

It was reported Thursday morning here by Dr. Benton V. Scott, health commissioner of Fayette County, that there is a strong possibility of the advancement of Miss Gretchen Darlington, senior nurse in the county health department here, to a new position as supervising nurse for the entire district, consisting of Fayette, Ross and Pike counties and the city of Chillicothe which is under a separate board than the remainder of Ross County.

Dr. Scott stated that no official action has been taken by the various boards of the district but that there has been informal discussion and tentative approval by them.

The new position will require some financial adjustments to be made by the various boards, and action by the counties' budget commissions and the financial committee of the Chillicothe board, but it appears probable that this will be worked out satisfactorily and official action will follow, Dr. Scott said.

MISS DARLINGTON came to the department here in February 1945 as a registered nurse. She resides with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Darlington, 729 Sycamore St. She is well known through her work all over Fayette County.

If the new district position is created and she takes over the work, she will continue to live here and will spend a part of her time with the local department. Dr. Scott pointed out that the health work in this district has grown to a degree that it is difficult for the director to coordinate all of the required activities of the various departments without the aid of a supervisor of nurses. The new supervisor, when officially named, will have the duty of coordinating all the nursing services of the three counties and the included district of Chillicothe.

Mrs. Scheeler Dies Wednesday

Mrs. Lina Scheeler, 83, Route 5, died at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday in the William Rest Home here where she had been a patient for the last three years. A native of Chillicothe, Mrs. Scheeler had spent most of her life in Fayette County, with the exception of several years when she lived in Columbus.

Her husband, Charles Scheeler, died in 1910.

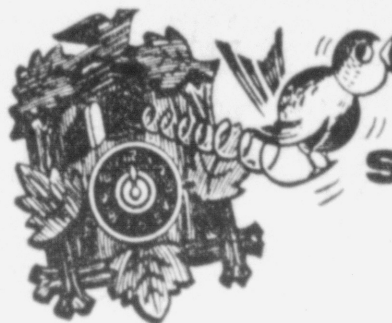

She was a member of the Concord Methodist Church of Ross County, a member of the Royal Neighbors of America chapter in Columbus and was a past noble grand of the Rebecca Lodge of Columbus.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Charlene Malone, of Washington C. H., and Mrs. Sarah Fishback, of Columbus, two sons, Harry L. and Lawrence, both of Columbus; and three sisters, Mrs. Maude Harne, of Washington C. H., Mrs. Ella Ault, Lorain, and Mrs. Sue Kerns, Chillicothe.

Funeral services will be conducted at 1 p. m. Friday in the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home here by the Rev. Glenn Robinson, pastor of the New Holland Methodist Church. Burial will be in the Concord Cemetery, six miles east of Chillicothe.

Friends may call at the funeral home from 2 until 4 p. m. and 7 until 9 p. m. Thursday.

All abutting landowners had signed the petition which Council referred to the City Planning Commission (Zoning Board of Appeals) with a recommendation that the "paper street" be vacated. George Pensyl is chairman of the commission.

TWO ADDITIONAL transfers from the general fund, both on a loan basis, were approved by Council. The sum of $4,000 was transferred to the street maintenance and repair fund to defray the cost of the asphaltic surfacing of Sycamore St. which was not included in the city's 1956 budget.

The sum of $10,000 was loaned from the general fund to the sewage revenue fund to be used as part payment for the preparation of detailed plans and specifications for the city's proposed $430,000 sewage treatment plant expansion program.

The total bill for the planning service is expected to be approximately $30,000. The city is requesting a $129,000 federal assistance grant for the project which has been ordered by the Ohio Water Pollution Control Board.

If the grant is approved, 30 per cent of the cost of plans will be recovered by the city.

Rep. Powell Fears Purge Aimed at Him

NEW YORK (AP)—Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-N.Y.), who bolted the Democratic presidential ticket to support President Eisenhower, says House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) seems "bent on purging me."

Powell, a Negro said Wednesday night that Rayburn sent him a letter dated Dec. 4 and told him he would not be given a set of new congressional offices. Powell said he was entitled to these offices "on the basis of seniority."

Powell declared: "As on March 1, I was entitled to new offices being vacated by Dan Reed (R-N.Y.). He (Rayburn) has given these offices to Chelf of Kentucky (Rep. Frank L. Chelf) because I did not support the nominees for President and vice president on the Democratic ticket and Chelf did support them."

"That seems to indicate that Rayburn is bent on purging me, but if the Democratic caucus on Jan. 2 purges me as the first person in the history of the Democratic party it will be obvious that they are purging me only because I am a Negro."

"They have never done it to any of the state rights boys from Dixie."

Powell supported the Eisenhower ticket, he said, because he preferred the President's stand on civil rights to that of Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee. Powell said at the time he was still a Democrat.

U. S. House Dies In Los Angeles

U. S. House, 92, a native of Fayette County, died Sunday morning in a hospital in Los Angeles where he had lived for half a century.

Word of his death was received today by his two closest relatives here, Mrs. Beryl Cavine, 325 E. Market St., a niece, and Charles Siebern, of Snowhill Rd., a nephew.

Mr. House was born on a farm on the Miami Trace about a mile south of the CCC Highway. As a young man he read law with Judge James L. Zimmerman here and later was admitted to the bar.

He went to Los Angeles in the 1890s, where he practiced law and was engaged in the real estate business.

Mrs. House preceded him in death, but he is survived by a daughter, Miss Florence House, who made her home with him.

Funeral service, followed by cremation, were held in Los Angeles Tuesday.

Columbus Man Held As Drunken Driver

Frederick W. Byers, 21, Columbus salesman, is being held here on a driving while intoxicated charge for arraignment in Municipal Court, probably Friday. There is no court session on Thursday.

Byers was arrested at 12:15 a. m. Thursday on Court St. by Patrolman Rodman Scott, who made out the DWI affidavit after Byers had been given the alcometer test.

Masons To Attend Services Sunday

Members of the Blue Lodge of the Masonic Order here will attend special St. John's Day services at Grace Methodist Church Sunday morning.

Masons will assemble at the church at 9:15 a. m. and file in together to take the pews that will be reserved for them. Around 50 are expected to attend the service, starting at 9:30.

The Rev. Perry Grimm, a retired Methodist minister who now makes his home here, will occupy the pulpit in the absence of the Rev. L. J. Poe, Grace Church pastor, who is now on vacation. Mr. Grimm's sermon topic will be: "When the Angels Had Gone Away."

This is an annual custom of the lodge here. St. John the Evangelist, and St. John, the Baptist, are patron saints of the Masonic order which observes two St. John's Days each year, one in December and one in June.

Pasadena Expects Huge Gathering

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Pasadena Police Chief Clarence Morris estimates that about a half million cars carrying 1 1/2 million people will swarm into Pasadena Tuesday for the Tournament of Roses Parade and Rose Bowl football game.

The parade will include 63 flower-decked floats, 20 bands and about 200 horseback riders, in addition to banner carriers and three rose-covered cars carrying grand marshal Eddie Rickenbacker and other parade officials.

Gretchen Darlington May Become New District Nurse Supervisor

It was reported Thursday morning here by Dr. Benton V. Scott, health commissioner of Fayette County, that there is a strong possibility of the advancement of Miss Gretchen Darlington, senior nurse in the county health department here, to a new position as supervising nurse for the entire district, consisting of Fayette, Ross and Pike counties and the city of Chillicothe which is under a separate board than the remainder of Ross County.

Dr. Scott stated that no official action has been taken by the various boards of the district but that there has been informal discussion and tentative approval by them.

The new position will require some financial adjustments to be made by the various boards, and action by the counties' budget commissions and the financial committee of the Chillicothe board, but it appears probable that this will be worked out satisfactorily and official action will follow, Dr. Scott said.

MISS DARLINGTON came to the department here in February 1945 as a registered nurse. She resides with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Darlington, 729 Sycamore St. She is well known through her work all over Fayette County.

If the new district position is created and she takes over the work, she will continue to live here and will spend a part of her time with the local department. Dr. Scott pointed out that the health work in this district has grown to a degree that it is difficult for the director to coordinate all of the required activities of the various departments without the aid of a supervisor of nurses. The new supervisor, when officially named, will have the duty of coordinating all the nursing services of the three counties and the included district of Chillicothe.

Mrs. Scheeler Dies Wednesday

Mrs. Lina Scheeler, 83, Route 5, died at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday in the William Rest Home here where she had been a patient for the last three years. A native of Chillicothe, Mrs. Scheeler had spent most of her life in Fayette County, with the exception of several years when she lived in Columbus.

Her husband, Charles Scheeler, died in 1910.

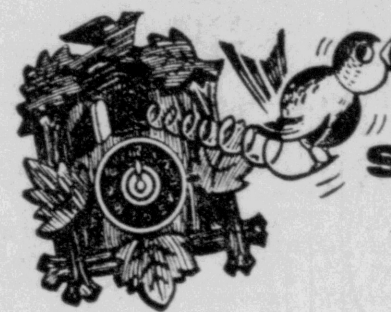

She was a member of the Concord Methodist Church of Ross County, a member of the Royal Neighbors of America chapter in Columbus and was a past noble grand of the Rebecca Lodge of Columbus.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Charlene Malone, of Washington C. H., and Mrs. Sarah Fishback, of Columbus, two sons, Harry L. and Lawrence, both of Columbus; and three sisters, Mrs. Maude Harne, of Washington C. H., Mrs. Ella Ault, Lorain, and Mrs. Sue Kerns, Chillicothe.

Funeral services will be conducted at 1 p. m. Friday in the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home here by the Rev. Glenn Robinson, pastor of the New Holland Methodist Church. Burial will be in the Concord Cemetery, six miles east of Chillicothe.

Friends may call at the funeral home from 2 until 4 p. m. and 7 until 9 p. m. Thursday.
